

FLORIDA MIAMI'S Ideal Resort Hotel

Convenient to all points of interest—Modern in every way. An enjoyable view from our spacious ground-floor porches, which surround the hotel. Many rooms with private balconies.

HOTEL GRALYNN

Corner Second St. and 1st Ave. S. E.

RATES: (European)
Single $2.50 to $3.00 daily
Double $5.00 to $12.00 daily

Booklet on Application
H. H. Mase, Manager

(June to October) Hotel Maseley, Sanibel-Causeway, Cuckilla, N. Y.

MAINE SCHOOL of BEAUTY CULTURE

COURSE BEGINNING FEBRUARY 2

Train now for one of the numerous summer openings

368 MAIN STREET ROCKLAND, ME. TEL. 996

R. H. S. Annual Winter Carnival

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31

COMMUNITY PARK

Trial Meet at 10 o'clock A. M. Finals at 1.30 P. M.

Eight Competing Schools Over 100 Entries

SKATING SKIING SNOWSHOEING

OBSTACLE RACES

Skating Rink Tickets Not Good For Admission

SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Savings accounts serve every class of people. For the laboring man, the young man in business, the successful man of middle age, and the young married couple, a savings account is a reserve fund to fall back on in time of need and, at the same time, a safe, profitable investment that is not affected by conditions or market ups and downs. We invite your savings account at this safe banking institution.

ROCKLAND NATIONAL BANK

Safety Service

A Member of the Financial Institutions Group of Banks

Financial Institutions, Inc. is a Maine corporation owning a majority of the Capital Stock of 14 Maine banks having total resources of more than $80,000,000. Over 25 per cent of the Common Stock of Financial Institutions, Inc. is owned by Maine capital and the corporation is managed by Maine men who have had long and successful experience in banking and financial operation.

NORTH NATIONAL BANK

At the Sign of North National Bank

NATIONAL BANK ADVANTAGES

A National Bank such as the North National Bank is under the strict supervision of the United States Government. It is carefully safeguarded. Another advantage is that it affords a protection of double the amount of its Capital stock. This strong, old Bank has a Capital of $100,000.00 and Surplus and Profits of $174,000.00. A Bank of safety for your funds.

NORTH NATIONAL BANK

Rockland, Maine

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK
Subscriptions $3.00 per year payable in advance. Single copies three cents. Advertising rates based upon circulation and very reasonable.

Do well the duty that lies before you.—Pittacus.

MR. CURTIS' EPIGRAM

'We Must Run As Fast As We Can To Stay Where We Are in a Period of Depression'

Cyrus H. K. Curtis, president of the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia, last night told the committee of 100, social organization in Miami Beach, Fla., that advertising will make fortunes.

The policy of some advertisers to save expenses by cutting down on their advertising, is "foolish," he said, adding: "Everything that is done is built on advertising and intelligent advertising will make your fortunes."

He said his company spent $1,000,000 last year in advertising and plans to spend $2,000,000 this year.

"In a period of depression," he said, "we must run as fast as we can to stay where we are."

PARK THEATRE

"No Limit" is the title of the new Clara Bow picture. She is cast as a pretty usherette who, through a stroke of good fortune, finds herself the temporary owner of a Park Avenue apartment and a gorgeous Rolls Royce. But oddly enough, Clara makes the rather startling discovery that all is not as it should be in her apartment. It turns out that the apartment is the rendezvous of gamblers who believe that she is the new owner and operator. Clara, against her better judgment, decides to carry on; take her fling while she still has the chance. But when she meets young Douglas Thayer (Norman Foster), supposedly one of New York's blue bloods, she falls in love with him. He, in his own particular fashion, falls in love with her. Thayer, however, turns out to be a suave crook. Clara does not find this out until she has become his wife and accidentally sees him and his accomplices pull a sensational holdup. From this point on the story's action takes several unusual and highly dramatic turns as Clara, faced with exposing her husband to the police, fights desperately to protect him. There is a climax that is as unusual and different as it is exciting and interesting.

The attraction now playing is "Africa Speaks" and is one of the most unusual films yet screened.—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

George O'Brien, who portrays the leading male role in "Fair Warning" refuses to stand for any doubts in his pictures. No hazard is too great for him and he has taken some chances that even a professional double would hesitate to take. Though he has had many accidents, O'Brien is always physically fit and when he is injured he recuperates quickly.

He has boxed, played football, handball, golf, basketball, basketball and kindred sports, but he likes swimming better than any form of athletic exercise.

In "Fair Warning," he performs some amazing feats of a dangerous and thrilling nature and this production was completed without his meeting with accident.

In his previous picture, "Last of the Duanees," he took many chances and came through unscathed up to the last day of production, when a microphone fell and hit him on the head and knocked him out, but this, of course, was not the result of accepting hazard. It might have happened to anybody.

Louise Huntington, beautiful and charming stage actress, is O'Brien's leading woman. The feature will be at this theatre Monday and Tuesday.—adv.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

OF THE

ROCKLAND LOAN & BUILDING ASS'N

Rockland, Me.

December 20, 1930

J. ALBERT JAMESON, President EDWARD F. GLOVER, Vice President

HARRY O. GURDY, Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS—Putnam P. Bicknell, A. Judson Bird, Thomas H. Chisholm, Robert U. Collins, Ernest C. Davis, Charles H. Duff, Edward F. Glover, Harry O. Gurdy, J. Albert Jameson, E. Mont Perry, Walter H. Spear.

ORGANIZED MAY 18, 1888

RESOURCES

Loans on Mortgages of Real Estate	$ 879,670 00
Loans on Shares	33,437 00
Furniture and Fixtures	1,374 55
Due from Borrowers	98 82
Cash	4,780 29
	$ 919,360 66

LIABILITIES

Accumulated Capital	$ 784,149 53
Advance Payments	34,439 81
Matured Shares	24,400 00
Guaranty Fund	17,582 05
Profits	25,218 57
Bills Payable	33,500 00
Forfeited Shares	70 70
	$ 919,360 66

Number of Shareholders	1,168
Number of Borrowers	573
Number of Shares Outstanding	12,094
Number of Shares Pledged for Loans	5,508
Number of Loans	723

WOULD ABOLISH COMMISSION

Freeman S. Young Speaks Right Out In Meeting Concerning Situation of the Lobster Industry

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

From the Press Herald of Jan. 29 comes these words: "The lobster situation of Maine is in a deplorable condition, and only a duty on Canadian lobsters will save the lobstermen of Maine."

It is a shame for the fishermen of Maine to be in such a predicament. We only turn to the State survey and find the Sea and Shore Fisheries of Maine is the only department that has made any kind of a showing.

The survey speaks of the 10 1/2 inch lobster, but the 10 1/2 inch measure has not existed for several years. The measure being used now is 3 1/2 inches, and being legal permits the fishermen to take from 10 to 15 on a hundred count which were formerly illegal. Ten lobsters on a hundred, with 2000 men fishing, (allowing a weekly catch of 100 lobsters to each person engaged during winter months) means that many more lobsters to be marketed each week.

Retiring wardens: If we are to retire anybody in the fish game, let it be those who have made fishing a livelihood for 40 to 50 years.

With an appropriation of $65,000 annually for the Sea and Shore Fisheries department, the only thing the taxpayers are confronted with is the statement that the lobster situation is in a deplorable condition and the proposition to retire wardens on half pay. We certainly have a wonderful outlook for this department.

A suggestion: Why ask the fishermen to make a report of their catches each day. If this is just to the lobster fishermen it is just to the dealer, likewise any firm or corporation, though it be farmer, fisherman, storekeeper or what not. To me this is not getting anywhere, and knowing the fisherman some, I believe if a fisherman gets a good catch today he is not telling anybody.

How to correct the situation:

Abolish the Sea and Shore Fisheries commission. Deal with it as a

Marine Fisheries of Maine department, to be controlled by the Governor and his council. Pay this official, whether his title be commissioner, director or king, a salary that will be worth his while to put all his time into this department and report to the Governor and Council at least every three months his findings and what he has been doing. Give more attention to the ground fish such as cod, haddock, etc. Cooperate more fully with the Federal government in protecting the spawning fish in their season.

Lobsters: Abolish the ruling asking lobster fishermen to make a report of their daily catches. Enforce the law in every country—don't say that, one county is so near the Boston market that it is hard to enforce it.

The Maine lobster fishermen have not had and are not having an equal chance with those in Massachusetts or Canada. The reason is that Canadian 9-inch lobsters are shipped into Massachusetts, sold to the consumer as chicken lobsters at a price much less than Maine lobsters can be handled. The remedy is this—instead of fooling around, trying to get a duty on Canadian lobsters, let the Federal government establish a program asking for a uniform law. Have a measure that is legal in every State. There will be no difficulty in an impartial enforcement of the fish laws.

Finally—in my opinion, had this department used part of its time working for fish industries to be established along our coastal counties of Maine, there would not be as many vacant fishwharves as at present.

One man put it something like this—the docks are going to ruin, the wharves are caving in, just for lack of earnest men to make them right again.

Freeman S. Young

HE SCORNS SPEEDY LOCOS

Albert Sharpley, Our Well Known Umbrella Mender, Is a Globetrotter and No Mistake

The familiar figure of Albert Sharpley, the aged and philosophical umbrella mender, reappeared on Main street the other day after an absence of more than four months. With a little loose change in his pocket, with his umbrella kit on his back, and with no ticket for anywhere Sharpley started the middle of September for Seattle.

He hadn't progressed much beyond Chicago before he found business conditions much worse than they had been pictured in the eastern newspapers. Even the rain didn't seem to be as wet as it was in the good old days, and there was no comfort in that for an umbrella mender, so he started to counteract for Rockland.

So many motorists sympathized with the 87-year-old pedestrian that he didn't have to do much walking and his only worrying was occasioned by speculation as to where his next meal was coming from. And a philosopher who smokes a pipe which is almost his own age doesn't even worry a great deal about that.

With the aid of his numerous "pals" Sharpley traveled 1540 miles in four days and became quite contemptuous of the big locomotives whose path he so often crossed.

Sharpley began mending umbrellas when he was only about 10 high but though each job meant inevitable "raise" there wasn't enough romance in it to suit his youthful desire so he signed up as cook in the merchant marine and in the course of seven voyages around the world learned how to make the unromantic and unsavory messes which pass muster on shipboard because the salt air is creative of appetites. He was not only a cook, but a mascot, because the ships on which he served as chef were never wrecked and water never got to his pots and kettles. Salt water, anyhow.

Every port of importance in the two hemispheres came to know his jolly round features, and the odor of his familiar pipe left a trail from Cathay to Madagascar. Every seaman who ever shipped on the same vessel swore by him—and some at him, he is quite free to admit.

With the feeling that he is getting a bit old this plegmatic voyager is adhering firmly to his New Year resolutions not to go to any more, and while health permits he will install turnbuckles in erratic parasols and try to look happy when the smiling sun greets his business.

Speaking of health, Albert Sharpley never knew anything else but. When he was in the sixth grade he ranked as a seven-point child and never cried for Castoria. The health habit has stuck to him 87 years, together with most of his original fat. Sitting on a dry goods box and puffing on his omnipresent pipe he represents a picture of contentment that would have been beyond the genius of a Michael Angelo to portray.

At last accounts he had not turned a hair over the Wickersham report, the Einstein theory or the cement value investigation.

He believes that the world is a good place to live in—rain or shine, and that's saying a mouthful for an umbrella mender.

Mr. Sharpley also specializes in sharpening of lawn-mowers, and that's why he has never penetrated Aroostook County where the duration of grass is about the same as the duration of his omnipresent pipe.

All in all Mr. Sharpley believes in the simple life. Asked as to his religion he said he had "never had time to look it up" and he has never had time to vote because he doesn't stay on one spot long enough.

But he has stayed on earth long enough to make lots of friends and earn everybody's good will.

SANGER N. ANNIS,

Bank Commissioner.

AT HEAD OF CESSNA

Thad C. Carver Now President of the Noted Airship Corporation

New honors have come to Thad C. Carver of Pratt, Kansas, and Vinalhaven, Maine. The Wichita Eagle of Jan. 23 thus tells the story:

"Thad C. Carver, president of the People's Bank at Pratt and for years a leader in the aviation industry of Wichita, yesterday was elected president of the Cessna Aircraft company at a meeting of the board of directors."

"Mr. Cessna's position and responsibilities have not been lessened and he will continue in charge of the factory, it was announced by the new president. Mr. Carver and Mr. Cessna have been associated in the aviation business for many years, since they and Walter Beach were working together in the upbuilding of the Travel Air company."

"It begins to look like the old days of aviation in Wichita when Travel Air was being built up to one of the leading aircraft manufacturing companies in the nation. Several of the old faces are in the picture now and others may be added."

"With the old Travel Air organization were Thad Carver, Clyde V. Cessna and Walter H. Beach, as well as others who have made names for themselves in aviation. Two of this famous triumvirate now are members of the Cessna organization."

"Optimistic reports came from the meeting and all the officers spoke enthusiastically of the future of the Cessna company. A definite program of development will be worked out in the immediate future and new Cessna models will be brought out shortly, it was announced."

"Mr. Carver has been in Wichita for the past two days. He is a prominent figure in state banking circles and is exceptionally well known in the aviation industry in Wichita. His investment in the Cessna company, he said, is concrete evidence of his faith in the future of aviation."

"Expressing himself as pleased with the new arrangement, Mr. Cessna said he had great faith in the men with whom he now will be associated."

Thad C. Carver

One of the most important business deals which has been made in Rockland for a number of years was completed this morning when Austin M. Moody sold his extensive oil plants at the Northend and on Park street, to the Gulf Refining Company.

The deal carries with it all of the paraphernalia connected with Mr. Moody's important holdings, including the tank delivery boat Elsie M.

The transaction has been pending for some months, but the deeds did not pass until a few moments before this paper went to press.

Mr. Moody, who is a member of the Board of Aldermen has developed his plant from a small beginning, and the successful outcome of his venture stamps him as one of the city's most successful business men.

CEMENT DUST NOT BLAMED

Base Manager Wincapaw Makes Public An Important Report From Vacuum Oil Company

The following correspondence submitted to The Courier-Gazette this morning is timely and self explanatory.

William H. Wincapaw, base manager of the Curtis-Wright Flying Service, to The Courier-Gazette:—

"Enclosed you will find a copy of the analysis made by one of the three oil companies on the cylinder oil used in our planes at Rockland. This clears up the matter of whether or not the cement dust was causing our trouble with motors."

P. M. Gibson, branch manager of the automotive department of the Vacuum Oil Co. to Captain W. H. Wincapaw:

"Attached you will find a copy of the analysis made by our laboratory of the samples which you recently brought into this office. We hope that the information contained herein will give you what you are looking for."

R. L. Waldron of the Engineering Division, Vacuum Oil Co. to P. M. Gibson:

"Replying to your letter of Dec. 16, our laboratory has analyzed the samples, Nos. 1 and 2, submitted and reports that their tests are as follows:

No. 1	No. 2
Fuel, 8.0%	6.0%
Insol. in P. E., 0.14	0.46
Insol. in Chloroform, 0.04	0.24
Ash, 0.01	0.04
Water, Trace	Trace
Visc. at 210 deg. F., 147	152

"The ash content was mainly iron oxide. There was no lime present to indicate any contamination from the nearby cement mill. The small percentage of ash, of course, shows that very little wear has taken place in the motors from which these oils were removed."

A BIG BUSINESS DEAL

One of the most important business deals which has been made in Rockland for a number of years was completed this morning when Austin M. Moody sold his extensive oil plants at the Northend and on Park street, to the Gulf Refining Company.

The deal carries with it all of the paraphernalia connected with Mr. Moody's important holdings, including the tank delivery boat Elsie M.

The transaction has been pending for some months, but the deeds did not pass until a few moments before this paper went to press.

Mr. Moody, who is a member of the Board of Aldermen has developed his plant from a small beginning, and the successful outcome of his venture stamps him as one of the city's most successful business men.

RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR HELP

Knox County's Relief Fund Has Reached $1800 Mark—Every Dollar Necessary To Aid Million Sufferers

Knox County is thoroughly aroused to the necessity for aid to the suffering thousands in the drought stricken areas of 21 western states as this splendid array of contributors testifies. This county's quota is $3200 toward the national goal of $100,000. Not the slightest doubt remains that the Red Cross will be feeding a million persons before spring and every last dollar of the quota is needed.

Seven two-man teams combed the business section Thursday with good results and the towns of the county are steadily adding to the contributions. A happy sign in the growth of the fund is the very large number

(Continued on Page Two)

A FEDERAL DUTY

On Lobsters and Scallops Wanted By Crie—Canadian Influx

A Federal duty on the importation of Canadian lobsters, as the only means of "saving the Maine lobster industry from disaster" was urged in the biennial report of the Sea and Shore Fisheries Commission, submitted to the Governor and Council Wednesday.

"The lobster situation in Maine is in a deplorable condition," wrote H. D. Crie, director of the commission. Canadians, "who caught three times as many lobsters as are trapped in Maine, for half the price," glutted the Boston markets, forcing prices downward, he said.

"There are approximately 20,000 people in Maine depending entirely upon the lobster industry for a living and the fishermen have to sell their catch almost at cost prices. Canada charges a duty of 25 per cent of the value of live lobsters and 30 per cent of preserved on all shipments from the United States. It seems only fair we should do the same."

Crie complained of Canadian vessels fishing Maine waters and said American boats and equipment were seized when caught fishing in Canadian waters. He recommended a duty of 50 cents per gallon on Canadian scallops, which he said now enter the United States free.

Other recommendations included retirement on half pay for wardens who had been in the sea and shore fisheries service ten years or longer and reached the age of 70; state licensing of all sea fishermen, and a tie-up of fishermen with the Grange, which he said would lead toward improvement of marketing methods.

WITH THE BOWLERS

The Five Aces beat the Dragons 432 pins at Carr's alleys Wednesday night. Outside of that the game was close. Mitchell had high string (124) and on high total led the next nearest man by 41 pins. The summary:

Five Aces—Lindsey, 277; Shields, 303; Stone, 283; Clukey, 273; Mitchell, 344; total, 1480.

Dragons—Lynch, 285; Hinckley, 267; Atwood, 299; Pomeroy, 257; Dummy, 240; total, 1348.

On the same night that the Five Aces beat the Dragons 132 pins they spanked Central Maine almost as bad, their victory margin being 129 pins. They were certainly playing the role of buzz saw that night. Elliott had high string (115) and Shields had high total.

The summary:

Five Aces—Lindsey, 287; Shields, 310; Stone, 281; Clukey, 276; Mitchell, 297; total, 1463.

Central Maine—Elliott, 288; Maxey, 261; Daris, 270; Merrill, 258; Thomas, 263; total, 1324.

Thursday night, at Carr's alleys the Ford Motor Co. beat the Rockland Body Shop 43 pins, a lead which was more than accounted for by that large second string. Harjula's single of 114 was just two points better than Porter's although the latter had high total.

The summary:

Ford Motor Co.—Black, 249; Cope-land, 248; Porter, 305; Jameson, 271; McPhee, 291; total, 1364.

Rockland Body Shop—Johnson, 250; O. Nelson, 279; Harjula, 275; Newbert, 262; E. Nelson, 255; total, 1321.

ON MY SET

A bit of welcome news to all of us is that Miss Kitty McLaughlin is to be "on the set" Sunday evening at 9.30 on Station WGBS, in "Chamberlain Brown's Great Stars of Broadway" hour. The hour is devoted chiefly to the drama. Miss McLaughlin will sing two numbers, and has named tentatively a number from the "Chocolate Soldier" and the tune "Toujours, l'amour, Toujours," by Friml.

The broadcast is given from the Lincoln Hotel, 44th street, accompanied by the hotel orchestra.

The Senate has announced that it will make its own investigation of the unemployment situation. Only a pessimist believes unemployment will be with us long enough for that.—San Diego Union.

Parents!

Capture that precious record of your child's growth with photographs. Have a picture made once a year.

Champney's Studio

Foot of Limerock Street

ROCKLAND, ME.

14-15

MEMBER OF PHOTOGRAPHERS ASS'N OF AMERICA

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Me., Jan. 31, 1931.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lydell, who on oath declares that he is President of the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of Jan. 28, 1931, there was printed a total of 628 copies.
W. H. BUTLER,
Notary Public.

But godliness with contentment is great gain.—I. Tim. 6:6.

AT THE CAPITOL

Included in the flood of bills introduced in Legislature this week are the following from this section of the State:

Burkett, Union, would appropriate $2000 to town of Rockport for repairs to the road known as Oak street.

Littlefield, Monroe, would close Mixer pond, Waldo, to all except fly fishing.

Littlefield, Monroe, would limit catch from Swan lake to five trout.

Snow, Bluehill, would increase salary of Judge of Western Hancock Municipal Court from $750 to $1000.

Ford, Brooklin, would appropriate $1500 to town of Sedgewick for repairs to the Sedgewick Ridge road.

St. Clair, Knox, would legalize marriages solemnized by Justices of the Peace and Notaries Public on or after July 13, 1929.

Weeks, Dresden, would provide pension of $375 annually for Evie Morelen Studeley, Bremen, from teachers' pension fund.

Snow, Bluehill, would shorten open season on deer in Hancock County by beginning closed season on Dec. 1 instead of Dec. 16 as at present.

Hills, Northport, would appropriate $2000 to the town of Liberty for repairs to the Liberty Village-Union road.

Hills, Northport, would appropriate $2000 to town of Morrill for repairs to the Morrill Village road.

Hills, Northport, would appropriate $2000 to town of Northport for repairs to the Walden's Corner-Beech Hill road.

Hills, Northport, would appropriate $2000 to town of Belmont for repairs to the Belmont Corner-Greer's Corner road.

Whitney, Friendship, would appropriate $5155 to reimburse Thomaston for damages caused to land owner because of reconstruction to bridge over Mill River brook.

Bailey, Whitefield, would appropriate $910 in favor of C. A. Boynton, Whitefield, to reimburse him for injuries to his son by a State truck.

Snow, Bluehill, would require Hancock County treasurer to pay county funds of $500 annually to the County Law Library and $1000 annually to the Law Library Association.

Bishop, Lincoln, would authorize County Commissioners of Lincoln County to issue bonds totaling $75,000 from time to time to retire outstanding bridge notes and raise funds for the county's part in the cost of bridges which may be built under the provisions of the Bridge Act.

St. Clair, Knox, would incorporate Blueberry Farm Walker Co. at Melvin Heights, Camden, for supplying water in that vicinity.

St. Clair, Knox, would appropriate $149 to Knox County Fish and Game Association of Rockland for one-half the expenses of installing screen at the outlet of Leonard's pond.

Bishop, Lincoln, would authorize the County Commissioners of Lincoln County to sell interests of the county in the jail property, so-called, Wiscasset, also a lot adjoining the First Parish Congregational Church property and to extend to the owners of said First Parish Church a right-of-way extending over the courthouse lot.

The story of a wild Maine moose that killed a gentle milk cow was presented to the Legislature Wednesday with a resolve requesting $150 damages from the State to reimburse Coyt Ingraham, a Waldo County farmer, for loss of the animal. The measure was introduced in the Senate by Senator Small of that county. The cow, according to the "statement of facts" was found in the pasture with both hips broken. Moose tracks were abundant. A moose was seen within half a mile of where the cow was found.

An annual appropriation of $20,000 for construction of State armories would be provided by a measure to be introduced in the House. The appropriation would be in addition to the present fund of $25,000 yearly for the rental of armories by the State. Adjutant General Hanson explained that the Smith measure would eventually mean State ownership of armories for its national guard; of the 27 armories now in use in Maine, only one, in Portland, is owned by the State. The federal government has warned the national guard of Maine that certain armories now in use were not adequate for the proper protection of federal property loaned to the State, Hanson said.

Owing to the stormy weather our "dollar sale" will be continued through the week beginning Feb. 2. E. B. Hastings & Co.—adv

A RAISE IS THE INCREASE IN PAY YOU GET JUST BEFORE GOING DEEPER IN DEBT!

RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR HELP

(Continued from Page One)

of contributors. No group is doing this great work. Everybody is participating with contributions ranging from 25 cents upward. Approximately 130 different contributors are listed below:

F. O. Jameson, Warren 5.00
St. George Chapter American Red Cross 25.00
Caroline L. Jameson 2.00
Hooey Club 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pillsbury, Jr. 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boody, Jr. 2.00
Ida and Myra Blunt, Thomaston 5.00
A. P. Blaisdell 5.00
St. Clair & Allen 10.00
H. C. Chatto 5.00
B. A. Murphy, Friendship 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Carter 10.00
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smalley 10.00
Mrs. Marietta Hatch, Friendship 2.00
Anonymous, Thomaston 2.00
Lucy Rhodes 2.00
Osmond Palmer, Jr. 1.00
Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Karl 2.00
Carrie E. Brainerd 5.00
Superior Gas & Oil Co. 3.00
Sea View Garage 3.00
Mary Harriman 1.00
A. W. Gregory 10.00
Philip Sulides 2.00
Annie Carlini 1.00
Fred Carlini 1.00
Carl Benson 5.00
J. A. Kittredge 1.00
Gold Bond Stamp 1.00
R. Lewin 1.00
Cash 1.00
Henry Sleeper 2.00
Carl Hoffes 1.00
Margaret Marston 1.00
Ted Day 1.00
Earl Barron 1.00
James Dondis 1.00
H. Joyce25
Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Clark 3.00
Sadie Marcus 2.00
Freeman Perry 1.00
Alfred Condon 1.00
Carl Borgerson 2.00
Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moody 10.00
Samuel Rubenstein 1.00
Studley Furniture Co. 2.00
Fred C. Dyer 1.00
Cash 2.00
Bessie Sullivan 1.00
Thomas Economy 5.00
Helen McBride 2.00
G. M. Simmons 1.00
Lobster Grill 1.00
Harry Brown 1.00
No Name 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Bicknell 10.00
No Name 1.00
No Name Co. 5.00
No Name 2.00
No Name 2.00
Leroy Patterson 1.00
A. M. Hastings 1.00
Rockland Pharmacy 3.00
Leon White 1.00
Charles Tibbets 2.00
Mr. and Mrs. George Lurvey 2.00
Levy's Shoe Store 1.00
George Brackett 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Flint 5.00
E. E. Simmons 1.00
Harry Flint 1.00
Mr. Herriek at A. P. 2.00
William Greening 2.00
Jack Green 2.00
Tom Anastasio 2.00
George Tarr 1.00
Oscar Duncan 5.00
George Blethen 1.00
Naum & Adams 1.00
Lucien Green 1.00
Alton E. Perry 1.00
Harold L. Karl 1.00
Employees A. Lamb75
L. A. Walker 2.00
Fireproof Garage 5.00
Hurley Oliver50
William Gregory 1.00
N. M. Lofman 1.00
A. C. McLoon 25.00
Chisholm Brothers 5.00
L. B. Cohen 1.00
W. J. Sullivan 1.00
A. L. Babbidge 2.00
Willow Street Market 1.00
Perry's Laundry 5.00
E. W. Larrabee 1.00
Knox County Motors 10.00
House Sherman 5.00
C. S. Walker 2.00
C. M. Haveren 1.00
R. D. Stewart 1.00
Anonymous 3.00
Harold Bradford 5.00
L. W. Berger 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Spear 5.00
Modern Pants Co. 10.00
E. O. Philbrook 1.00
Parker Worrey 3.00
Frank W. Farrel 2.00
R. W. Davis 1.00
Mrs. C. M. Blake 2.00
Friend 1.00
A. W. Clushman 1.00
J. B. McKen 1.00
A. R. Haveren 1.00
Gilley & Duncan 10.00
Mrs. E. H. Rose 1.00
Lions Club 25.00
Bald Mountain 5.00
Bert Moxey 1.00
L. C. Jackson 1.00
Harry French 2.00
Arthur Baker 5.00
Knox Book Store 1.00
Dr. L. M. Richardson 5.00
P. W. Woolworth 5.00
Walter H. Spear 3.00
Tom Stone 3.00
Addie Holmes 2.00
Mrs. S. W. Lawry 4.00
Home Methods Bakery 1.00
Charles Emery 1.00
K. M. Kuhn 1.00
V. Chisholm 5.00
W. Kimball 1.00
Ralph Nutt 2.00
Ralph Conant 1.00
Mr. Crockett 1.00
Peoples Laundry 5.00
Munsey Garage 1.00
James Jones 5.00
Corner Drug Store Inc. 1.00
Mrs. A. J. Campbell 1.00
Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Veazie 5.00
Senter-Crane Company 25.00
G. M. Derry 1.00
Elmer C. Davis 2.00
Miss Pease 1.00
McDougall-Ladd Co. 10.00
Frank Tink 5.00
Walter H. Butler 1.00
Jerome Burrows 1.00
W. A. Hartshorne 1.00
Anonymous 2.00
Anonymous 3.00
The Anonymous Five 25.00
J. H. Flanagan 1.00
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Morey 2.00
North Haven Branch 50.00
Mr. and Mrs. Alan L. Bird 10.00

SMILES

Frank: Let's get engaged?
Maude: Very well, but who will you get engaged to?

The Girl: "So you've seen daddy, darling? Did he behave like a lamb?"
Sutor (grimly): "Absolutely! Every time I spoke he said 'Bah!'"

Teacher: "Tommy, tell the class something about Lindbergh's great feat."
Tommy: "I never saw them, but I can tell about Charlie Chaplin's."

Pat: "How do you like your false teeth?"
Mac: "Fine. Made $200 the first week grinning for toothpaste advertisements."

"Well the depression can't last forever."
Business Man: "No, neither can I."

"So you have been bedridden for three years?"
"Yes, the doctor came three years ago and said I was not to get up until he came again, and he hasn't returned yet."

A man bought some sausages and asked his landlady to cook them for his breakfast.

"How'd I cook them?" she asked.
"Fry 'em like fish," replied the lodger.

The next morning when the landlady served them, she remarked: "I hope you'll enjoy your breakfast, sir; but there's not much in these things when they're cleaned out."

The following ad reminds one of the want ad for "a strong horse to do the work of a country minister":
"Man wanted for gardening, also to take charge of a cow who can sing in the choir and blow an organ."

Legal Professor: "Now, will some member of the class please give me three examples of common property?"
Alfred the Smart: "Yes, sir—cigarettes, matches and umbrellas!"

Medium: "Ah, I hear the knocking of your late wife!"
Patron: "That so? Who's she knockin' now?"

KITCHEN LORE

by JANE ROGERS

THE wise housewife will take care to serve salads frequently during the cold, winter months. It is during this period of the year that fresh green vegetables are expensive and none too plentiful, and salads help to take their place by providing the family with an appetizing source of the needed vitamins and mineral salts.

Selection of just the right salad to harmonize or contrast with the other dishes is important.

The more substantial salads are usually most enjoyed when served as the main dish. A lighter salad, for instance one in which grapefruit or oranges are the chief ingredient, is preferable when the main dish is a roast or fowl, the tartness of the citrus fruits offering a refreshing contrast in flavor. In preparing French dressing for citrus or green salads, orange juice may be used as a suave substitute for the vinegar.

Florida French Dressing
Combine two tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, and dash of paprika with juice of two oranges and juice of one lemon. Mix with three-fourths cup olive oil. Beat with egg beater just before serving.

ROCKLAND TOOK BOTH

Camden's Court Stars Completely Outmatched By Orange and Black—Plenty of Roughness

In two of the roughest games that have ever been played in the Camden Y. M. C. A. gym, the Rockland High School basketball teams took both ends of a double header with the boys' score at 15 to 9, while the girls had little trouble in defeating the Me-gunticook sextette by a 40 to 20 count. Every corner of the gymnasium was packed for the fray and many who could not obtain seats stood outside and watched the game from the window.

Whatever fears may have been entertained in regard to the Camden girls' team were quickly dispelled as the score shows. The decisive victory came as a surprise to many as the Camden team is supposed to be one of the best in the State, and was supposed to have been able to give the Orange and Black the hardest battle of the year. With the accurate shooting of the Misses Howard and Mattson and the stellar defense work of Bernice Smith and Phyllis Snowman, while the center zone was doing its share of the passing, the Camden crew was helpless. Although they were completely outclassed, Miss Foster of the Camden team held her own against the other stars of the evening. She was easily the outstanding girl for the losers piling up 16 of the 20 points. Thomas, Camden side-center, also played a good passing game.

In a game where everything seemed to go but biting during time-outs the local boys' team outplayed the Camden quintet and took a firm grip on the second place position in the Knox and Lincoln League. Both teams were roughing it, but a new referee in this vicinity, by the name of Edwards, called only 14 fouls on both teams throughout the contest.

With the spectators sitting practically on the playing surface, the two teams did not have a very good chance to display their wares. Neither team was able to do any heavy scoring, but both played a bitter defensive battle all evening. The greater part of Rockland's points were gathered on long shots by Art Flanagan, while Walt Gay shot his baskets from a close range. Both of these players were the highlights in the local victory with Flanagan playing a great floor game while the Rockland forward was easily the outstanding player on the floor, Redman and Green-law performed capably for the Me-gunticook quintet. The summary:

Rockland
	G	P
Knowlton, rf	0	0
Flanagan, lf	4	1
Ellingwood, c	0	0
Gay, lg	3	0
McAlary, rg	0	0
	7	1

Camden
	G	P
Redman, lg	2	0
Alexander, rg	0	1
Greenlaw, c	0	0
Nash, rf	0	3
Miller, lf	1	0
Morris, lf	0	0
	3	9

Referee, Edwards of Colby. Time four 8's.

The girls' summary:
Score, Rockland 40, Camden 20.
Rockland lineup: Mattson rf, Edna Howard lf, Brewer c, Lawrence sc, Howard sc, Snowman rg, Smith lg, Billards lg.

Camden lineup: Pearson lg, Trask rg, Deini c, Thomas sc, Foster lf, Heald rf, Ralph lf, Flaister rf.

Points scored by Howard 22, Mattson 18, Foster 16, Heald 4.

Lincoln Academy defeated Thomaston High in Thomaston last night 22 to 20. The scoring was evenly divided for the winners in a closely fought game. The Thomaston ladies won over the Lincoln girls, 23 to 14. The summary of the boys' game:

Lincoln Academy (22)
	G	P
Bates, lf	2	1
Haggett, rf	2	1
Haskell, c	2	3
Fuller, lg	1	0
Plummer, rg	1	1
	8	6

Thomaston High (20)
	G	P
Day, rg	0	0
Johnson, lg	0	0
Feyler, c	1	0
Felt, rf	4	1
Morton, lf	4	1
	9	2

Referee, Wotton.

WARREN

There are ten this year in the graduating class of Warren High, seven of whom will have parts as follows: Vaudeville, Miss Helen Hills; salutatory, Vernon Packard; history, Josef Vinal; prophecy, Kenneth Cousins; address to the undergraduates, Marion Oxtun; presentation of gifts, Arnold Castner; return gift, Marshall White.

George Gardiner returned Thursday from Portland.

Adele Feyler has been quite ill.

Rev. H. I. Holt spoke to the pupils of the Pleasantville school Wednesday afternoon, stressing obedience and the importance of study.

The talk was much appreciated by both pupils and teacher, Mrs. Lina Smith.

Mrs. Leland Philbrook now has the telephone—2-4.

Mrs. A. T. Norwood, Mrs. Leroy Norwood and children Ann, Lois and Mary, were guests Tuesday of Mrs. H. L. Robbins in Union.

Alvah Achorn of Waldoboro is clerking in the Cloverdale store.

Mrs. S. E. Norwood spent Tuesday in Rockland with Mrs. Adella Veazie.

Miss Adelaide Holt was hostess to a dinner party Tuesday evening at the Congregational parsonage. The table was most attractively decorated in yellow and green colors and the meal served by candlelight. Guests present were Miss Doris Sylvester, Miss Alice Stevens, Mrs. Doris Sawyer and L. C. Sawyer of Camden.

Mrs. H. L. Robbins, Henry Boggs of Union and Mrs. Ernest Hastings of South Warren were guests Wednesday of Mrs. A. T. Norwood.

Mrs. Susie Philbrook has been spending a few days with Mrs. Leland Philbrook.

Dinner guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Watts were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Buber.

Ann McCraw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCraw of West Roxbury, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jameson.

The Social Club met at the Stone schoolhouse Thursday afternoon.

Earl Storer of Rockland is visiting his father, Edward Storer, for a few days.

Faye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clarence Benner, in Waldoboro.

William Piper who is at Knox Hospital for treatment, is showing improvement.

Leland Philbrook went to Portland Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Starrett, Mrs. Isa Teague and family, Arnold Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Overlock, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Starrett, Hollis Starrett, Aden Feyler, Edwin Teague and Charles Webb attended the funeral services of Mrs. Frank Teague at North Waldoboro Thursday afternoon.

There will be a child health meeting at the Congregational vestry next Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

A fine baked bean supper and social evening was enjoyed Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Philbrook. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Friendship, Mr. and Mrs. Percy French and Harold French, Mrs. Eugene Durgin, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Starrett and Mrs. Susie Philbrook.

One of the lesser movie officials insists that the ten-cent motion picture will soon be with us again. The trouble is, however, that they'll continue to charge $1 for it.—New York Evening Post.

The natural food of the mosquito, a science note points out, is the sap it finds in leaves, and also, we should think the one it finds holding hands on country lanes after dusk.—Boston Herald.

CAMDEN

Miss Evelyn Platt arrives from Colby College today to spend the weekend with her mother Mrs. Herbert Platt of Lawrence, Mass., who is visiting at W. P. Gould's Megunticook street.

Mrs. Sidney Norton entertained the Twilight Twelve Thursday evening.

Mrs. P. J. Good will entertain the Friends-In-Council Tuesday afternoon at her home on Elm street.

The Catholic Church is sponsoring a card party to be held Feb. 16, at American Legion hall. Refreshments will be served.

At a special meeting of Camden Commandery, K. T. next Tuesday evening, there will be work in the Order of the Temple.

Mrs. Francis Louraine of Rockland has been a recent guest of Mrs. Clarence Fish.

Mrs. Eugene Thomas entertained the Friday Reading Club yesterday afternoon. A covered dish luncheon was served at 12:30. Miss Georgia Matthews was the reader.

The Farm Bureau will meet at Grange hall at 10:30 Thursday. Mrs. Harold Nash will be in charge and the subject will be "Main Dishes and Left Overs."

A full attendance is desired at the meeting of Camden Mothers' Patriarchs Militant, next Monday evening as business of importance is to be discussed.

Rummage sale at the A. H. Parsons store on Feb. 5-7, the proceeds of which will go to the Camden Community Hospital. Sale opens each morning at 9:30 and closes at 8:30 p. m. There will be a food table and also a table of new articles.

The broadcast over WLBZ at Bangor by the Camden-Rockport Lions Club Wednesday night, came in fine and was greatly enjoyed. The program of one-half hour was most entertaining and the Lions are hoping to broadcast again in the near future. They received 28 telegrams from delighted friends who were listening in.

Last day of the I.O.O.F. Food Fair in the opera house. Dancing this evening with music by Dean's orchestra. Vaudeville acts as usual.

The Philatelic class of the Baptist Church met last evening.

Today at the Cornicome Fannie Brice in "Be Yourself" will be the attraction; Monday and Tuesday, "Her Man;" Wednesday and Thursday, Eddie Cantor in "Whoopie;" Friday, "Eyes of the World;" Saturday, William Haines in "Remote Control." Coming attractions include "Min and Bill;" "Hook, Line and Sinker;" "Abraham Lincoln;" "No Limit;" "Hells Angels;" "Charley's Aunt;" "Morocco."

Regular meeting of Knox Temple, P. S., takes place Tuesday evening and a full attendance is desired.

Special low price on

COKE

$10 a ton
(at the plant)

Due to the increased production of gas we have a larger supply of coke (which is a by-product in the manufacture of gas) than our regular customers and employes can use. For a short time we offer this coke, at the plant, at the reduced price of $10 a ton.

It is an exceptionally fine grade of coke... clean... fast burning... economical fuel.

Try a ton and NOTE THE DIFFERENCE!

CENTRAL MAINE POWER CO.

Local Office, 447 Main Street

Rockland, Maine

Telephone 530

"There is no hitching-post in the universe as far as we know," says Einstein. We were sure he would clear everything up nicely when he came.—The New Yorker.

What man descended from is only at best, a theory. What he has descended to, thanks to the power of the press, is no mystery whatever.—Leedsburg Commercial.

Gasoline is selling eight gallons for $1, but the price of bread is the same as last year, which proves, of course, down 20 per cent. if one could live on gasoline.—Detroit News.

SATURDAY SPECIALS

AT FOODLAND

PURE LARD 11c
SANITARY ONE POUND PACKAGE

Home Made Sausage Patties
ONLY FRESH NATIVE PORK AND PURE SPICES USED IN THIS SAUSAGE lb 19c

Pig Liver 10c lb
Macaroni 3 pounds, 25c
10 pound box, 69c

Iceberg Lettuce 3 large heads 25c

Fancy Florida Oranges FAMILY SIZE doz 19c

COOKING APPLES

Native Baldwins pk 19c

Very Large Grapefruit 3 for 21c

Perry's Market

NO NEED TO WALK HOME TO DINNER THIS COLD WEATHER WHEN YOU CAN EAT DOWN TOWN FOR 35 CENTS

PENOBSCOT GRILL

MILE-A-MINUTE MARTY

The cars we sell have never masqueraded as anything else but just what they are. That's how we built up our enviable reputation

TALK OF THE TOWN

COMING NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS
Feb. 2—Candlemas Day.
Feb. 6—Rotary Club ladies' night at Thorndike Hotel.
Feb. 8 (8 to 9:30)—Educational Club meeting at Copper Kettle Porch.
Feb. 8—Concert in Strand Theatre by Rockland City Band.
Feb. 9—Valentine meeting of Parent-Teacher Association at the High School.
Feb. 12—R. H. S. Junior Class play, "Peg O' My Heart."
Feb. 13—High School's Kippa Karival.
Feb. 15—Lent begins.
Feb. 18—Gretchen Fletcher dancing recital, Temple hall.
Feb. 22—Washington's Birthday (observed on the 23d).
Feb. 23—Annual meeting of the Forty Club at Thorndike Hotel.
March 17—St. Patrick's Day.
March 29—Palm Sunday.
April 5—Easter Sunday.
March 21 (9:07 a. m.)—Spring begins.

Ruth Mayhew Tent will meet Monday evening at Grand Army Hall with supper at 6 o'clock.

Harry W. French has resigned as treasurer of the Veteran Firemen's Association.

Arthur Rogers has conquered an attack of the grippe and is again razoristically fit.

Mrs. Ivy Hart of the high school faculty is ill, and Miss Katharine Veazie is substituting for her.

Blue Bonnet Troop Girl Scouts meets Monday afternoon in the Universalist vestry at 4 o'clock, with Captain Nina Beverage in charge.

The Congregational Women's Association will hold its monthly business meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church vestry at 3 o'clock.

Lewiston Journal: "A Rockland item reads that the Highland car had a tipsy fit, being derailed. It is related to the Toonerville trolley? Very distinctly."

E. A. Dean received a truckload of cabbages yesterday from China, a distance of 60 miles, also one from Warren; said cabbages to be transformed into sour kraut.

Miss Kitty McLaughlin will broadcast from Station WGBS Chamberlain Brown's Stars Broadway Sunday at 9:30 p. m. WGBS operates on 254 meters and 1180 kilocycles.

Knox County citizens who saw the Sells-Floto circus in Portland two years ago, will be interested to learn that a verdict of $90,000 has just been awarded against Tom Mix for breach of promise. Mix was the featured artist with the Sells-Floto show in 1929.

The members of Clara Barton Guild are preparing a children's operetta "Afternoon Tea" to be presented in the Universalist vestry Saturday afternoon, Feb. 21, at 2 o'clock. The operetta is very tuneful, and should attract grown-ups, as well as children.

Several members of Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S. attended the installation of Grace Chapter, in Thomaston Wednesday evening. On the program were readings "The Harp Weaver" by Edna St. Vincent Millay and "Grandpa and Grandma" given by Miss Dorothy Harvey, a pupil of Miss Adelyn Bushnell, which won marked applause.

At the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors the matter of the proposed water district was discussed. A yes and no vote among the members was authorized, and this is now being taken by mail. The signer simply states whether he favors such a move or is opposed to it. Absolutely no attempt is made to bias the sentiment, but after the check has been made the Chamber of Commerce will proceed on a program which it believes for the best interest of the community.

According to an opinion filed by Judge Peters in the U. S. District court Wednesday, it was not the fault of the crew of the tug Pejesco that a motor boat was destroyed and that George B. Smith was severely burned in Rockland harbor on Nov. 20, 1929. Elliott Smith, who was Frank Faulkins brought suit against the Pejesco Paper Co. of Brunswick, owner of the tug, alleging personal injuries in one case and property damage to all three. A petition for limitation of damages to the value of the tug was filed in January a year ago and hearing was held subsequently.

The recent destruction of the Presidential yacht Mayflower recalls that it was this craft which brought the late President William H. Taft to Rockland. Mr. Taft was ashore at Maine Central wharf, where he was met by the local committee, and later received popular acclaim as he rode through the city streets at the head of an automobile parade which will never be forgotten by the rear cars. It is quite possible that there may still be living some Rockland citizens who have been aboard the Mayflower, and possibly entertained there.

Owing to the stormy weather our "dollar sale" will be continued through the week beginning Feb. 2. E. B. Hastings & Co.—adv.

You are invited to inspect the largest line of rings ever shown at our store. Leon J. White, jeweller, Main street, opposite Hotel Rockland.—adv.

Julia A. Barker, distinguished psychic, of Augusta will demonstrate spirit communication at G.A.R. hall next Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.—adv.

Nilo's Repair Shop, Spring street, will be open Saturday nights hereafter.—adv.

RAINIER LIME RICKEY
A new sparkling Fresh Fruit Beverage—a perfect mixer
Listen in every Friday evening at 6:15 on WGB and WBZA Distributed by Rockland Produce Co.
Now on sale at Tilson Avenue
Miniature Golf Course
146-29

Eugene R. Spear of the telephone company is working for a few weeks in Bangor where a new building is being erected.

A rehearsal of the Universalist Sunday School orchestra, with Mrs. Helen Wentworth directing, will be held at the Copper Kettle this evening at 6:45.

The postponed meeting of the Universalist parish will be held in the vestry Monday evening at 7:30, when many important matters will be discussed and acted upon.

Having heard so much about Clara Bow lately there will doubtless be increased interest in her talking picture "No Limit," which is being shown at the Park next Monday and Tuesday.

Lester H. Shibles, State 4-H Club leader, will speak at the Belfast Rotary Club Wednesday noon, presenting a most interesting address on the club activities. L. A. Walker of this city was among the guests.

The BPW Club will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening with supper at 6:30, Miss Ethel Payson and Mrs. Maud Hollowell in charge. The class in business English will be conducted by Mrs. Lena Sargent. Mrs. Nettie Lord, chairman of the health committee, will have charge of the program, and Miss Ellen Daly, superintendent of Knox Hospital, will be the speaker.

The second in a series of delightful dancing parties was given Thursday evening at the Gonia cottage, Crescent Beach, with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ludwick, Mayor and Mrs. C. M. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morse as hosts. The 14 couples danced to snappy tunes played by the Silver King Orchestra under the direction of Emma Harvey. Buffet lunch was served. The next party, to take place in three weeks, is to be a costume affair, and already vivid plans are underway.

The New England Sportsmen's and Motor Boat Show opens in Mechanics building, Boston, Feb. 7. The show will be a zoo of American wild life, with 100 cages of live game animals found on this continent, including the fur-bearers many of which are no longer found in New England, the bay lynx, the Canada lynx, mountain lion, timber wolves, coyotes and numerous pairs of elk, reindeer, common deer, bison and moose. Hundreds of wildfowl will occupy a big centrally located pond, and there are to be countless tanks of game fish, including every species of salmon and trout taken by anglers in this country and Canada.

When do the holidays come this year? That's a subject that always interests everybody and here's the answer: Washington's Birthday (Feb. 22) on Sunday and observed the 23d; St. Patrick's Day (March 17) on Tuesday; Patriot's Day (April 19) on Sunday and observed the 20th; Memorial Day (May 30) on Saturday; St. John's Day (June 24) on Wednesday; Independence Day (July 4) on Saturday; Labor Day (Monday, Sept. 7); Columbus Day (Oct. 12) on Monday; Thanksgiving Day (Thursday, Nov. 26); Christmas Day (Dec. 25) on Friday. Lent begins Feb. 18, Palm Sunday is March 29, and Easter Sunday is April 5. Make your plans now, and shop early.

Three new members were yesterday taken into the Rotary Club—Charles E. Linscott, warden of the State Prison; Clarence H. Shaw, sales manager for Sea View Garage; and Albert S. Peterson, of Fuller-Cobb-Davis, bringing the club membership to 53. The program was in the hands of the Fellowship group with Dr. William Ellingwood as speaker. He stressed the thought of the increasingly better relations to be seen in professional and business circles. Ernest Thornton of Belfast and John Bird, Joseph Brewster, Herbert Mann and Col. E. A. Robbins of Camden were visiting Rotarians. Dr. Poppstone, "the flying doctor of Swan's Island" was a guest. Plans were completed for the ladies' night which will be observed next Friday in the main dining room of the Thorndike Hotel. The customary $25 was contributed to the Red Cross fund.

Inclement weather, slippery walking, etc., do not dampen the interest shown in the meetings of the Speech Readers Club. Thursday sentence practice was conducted by Mrs. Nathan L. Witham, current events by Miss Annie Frye and the story by Mrs. Ralph Ayers. Detailed plans for the eastern zone conference to be held in Springfield, Mass., Feb. 20-21, were shown on the bulletin board, also an invitation that has been extended to Mrs. Freeman Brown, president, to pour at the tea for visiting delegates and friends to be given at the Springfield League headquarters Friday afternoon, Feb. 20. Many interesting events are being planned for the conference, including a roll call of organizations, with responses by the presidents or their representatives, addresses by Dr. Harvey Fletcher and Miss Betty C. Wright of the National organization, the presentation of scientific and educational papers, a banquet and tea, and outings including a trip to Deerfield, a colorful colonial village, and winter sports at Hinsdale.

Your attention is called to, and you are invited to listen to the 8-tube model Majestic Radio at $89.50. This price is complete with tubes. Your attention is also called to the fact that any radio may be purchased under the convenient plan of $5 down and $2 per week. Eastern Radio Co., 228 Main street, Rockland.—adv.

New yellow gold basket mountings are available, $10 and up at Leon J. White's, jeweller, Main street, opposite Hotel Rockland.—adv.

Public supper, Episcopal Church, Saturday night 5 to 7 o'clock. Baked beans, cold meats, etc.; 35 cents.—adv.

Lotta J. Darling, well known and popular psychic reader, has by special request arrived in Rockland where she will remain a short time only. All wishing readings would do well to call early and avoid the rush. Parlors at 23 Park street.—adv.

Last night at Carr's: Federals 1378, Street Railway 1360.

Knox Lodge, I.O.O.F., will confer the first degree Monday night.

Supt. E. L. Toner is moving into his new residence on Summer street.

The Central Maine crew was on the jump yesterday repairing a broken trolley wire in Rockport.

Weather at 7:30 a. m.—Wind northeast; light snow falling; temperature eight degrees above zero.

Wonderful beyond words is the Africa talking picture at the Park. The patrons sit spellbound through it.

Miss Ellen Daly, superintendent of Knox County General Hospital, will tell the Forty Club the story of that institution Monday.

Remodeling operations have been completed at Arthur F. Lamb's cleaning establishment, and design to increase the efficiency of the fast growing establishment.

Ruth Mayhew Tent meets Monday night with supper at 6. Each member is asked to take reading matter pertaining to Abraham Lincoln, as observance of his birthday, Feb. 12.

The Church School of Missions of the Littlefield Memorial Church will meet in the vestry Monday evening at 6:45. The Guild and Auxiliary are to come prepared to sew. The scripture verse is to contain the word "Faith."

Seven schools in Knox, Lincoln and Waldo Counties were expected to compete in their annual winter carnival at Community Park this afternoon. The program begins at 1:30 and will last until dark, with probably 100 contestants vying for honors.

Deputy Sheriffs Ludwick and Phillips raided the residence of Michael Howard on Rankin street yesterday afternoon, seizing a still which is said to have been in operation when the officers arrived, 4½ quarts of alcohol, 19 bottles of beer, a capping machine and 120 empty bottles.

The February term of Knox County Superior Court convenes next Tuesday with Associate Justice James H. Hudson of Guilford presiding. The traverse jurors will not report until Thursday. There appears to be only a small amount of civil and criminal business ahead and only one naturalization case pending.

The resignations of Harry W. French, treasurer; George W. Doak, foreman; and C. M. Lawry, secretary, have been received by the officers of the Rockland and Veteran Firemen's Association. Mr. French is definitely out of the organization, but Messrs. Doak and Lawry remain on the board of directors.

Chairman L. W. Benner of the Knox Water District committee states that the establishment of such a district has nothing to do with local taxes, and that no community in the district can be assessed or called upon for money. Mr. Benner states that an article will appear in this paper next week explaining matters more fully.

Frank W. Robbins of Rockland street had blueberry pie for dessert yesterday. This is not an uncommon feature of any menu in the blueberry district, but the berries which furnished the filling for this particular pie were canned 68 years ago by Mr. Robbins' mother-in-law, the late Aramatha Wilson. Self-canning cans had just made their appearance and Mrs. Wilson determined to see how long canned berries would retain their properties. Strawberries which she canned at the same time were found to be delicious 30-odd years later, and she would have been much pleased to know that the blueberries opened 68 years after canning were as good as though packed yesterday.

Fire in the Winter street home of Louis Zdvardos gave the department a busy half hour yesterday morning and resulted in about $1,000 damage to building and contents. The blaze evidently originated around the kitchen stove and was confined to that section of the house through the good work of the department. Dense clouds of smoke shrouded the neighborhood and gave the appearance of a much larger fire. The building is owned by V. F. Studley and the loss partly covered by insurance. Mr. Zdvardos had no insurance. He is employed as bootblack at the shop between Senter Crane's and Spear's shoe store. Later in the day a chimney blaze at the Frank Post residence, Thomaston street, necessitated a call from Engine 2. No damage.

"THE VENICE OF THE ORIENT"
Such is one of the names given to Manila of the Philippine Islands. The name comes to it because it is situated on both banks of the Pasig River and enjoys some canal life from the river. These waters provide a lot of bridges for the city suggestive of the Rialto of the old world. Thirty-five years ago, the city had no drainage system and a heavy rain made boats on the streets a necessity. Around the Intermuros or Walled city which is most typical of its Spanish days, were walls and a moat dating back to 1500, two miles long and twenty-five feet high. Today, the moat is given up to fine drive-ways, and only the bridged river and canals remind the tourist of a city of islands.

Our Dollar Week has been such a success that we are going to continue another week. Special—a lot of Panel Mirrors at 1-3 off the regular price. Gonia's.—adv.

Clearance sale of Wall Papers continues all next week. Papers reduced 1-3 to 1-2 the regular price, in some cases even larger reductions. Bundle papers at any old price. Gonia's.—adv.

1855 1931
E. A. GLIDDEN & CO.
Waldoboro and Rockland
Highlands
Artistic Memorials in Stone
1228-1f

IN THE CHURCHES

SERMONETTE

Eternal Life
People are sooner or later obliged to face the question of a future life. Science cannot demonstrate its possibility, neither can it deny what it cannot prove. Eventually there will be no conflict between science and religion because both finally will reveal God. Religion is the hope of believers because it is equipped with faith. It is the nature of science to scoff; of religion to trust. Because every bit of hope that lends to the strengthening of faith in the great beyond should be shared with others the writer has prepared six articles:
I: Behold I show you a mystery.
II: Cast not away therefore your confidence.
III: Heaven.
IV: Christian hope.
V: I know that my Redeemer liveth.
VI: Across the centuries.

The first two face the objection of the latest scientific thought; the next two the promises of the Saviour; the fifth the vibrant faith of the Apostle Paul; and the final one the words of a living man who like Paul thinks things through.
W. A. H.

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal) the services for tomorrow will be appropriate for Septuagesima Sunday: Holy Communion at 7:30 at St. John Baptist Church; church school at 9:30; choral eucharist and sermon at 10:30; vespers at 7 p. m. at St. John's, Thomaston.

The Rockland Spiritualist Society presents Mrs. Julia A. Barker of Augusta tomorrow in lecture and messages demonstrating spirit communication. Meetings as usual in G.A.R. hall at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Miss Bertha McIntosh will sing. These meetings are open to the public.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner of Cedar and Brewster streets, holds Sunday service at 10:30. The subject of the lesson sermon to-morrow "Love" Sunday School is at 11:45 and Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 7:30. A reading room is located at 400 Main street and is open week days excepting holidays from 2 to 5 p. m.

At the Congregational Church to-morrow morning Mr. Rounds will preach on the subject "Can the Desires of Men Be Successfully Outlawed?" The sermon will have special reference to the Eighteenth Amendment. The Sunday School will convene at the noon hour. The Comrades of the Way will meet in the vestry at 6 o'clock.

Rev. George H. Welch, pastor, at the Universalist Church at 10:30 will have as his topic "School of the Spirit." The quartet will sing the anthems "He That Dwells in the House of the Lord," "Evile and Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace." Kindergarten meets at 10:30; Knickerbocker Class at 11:45 and church school at noon. Junior Y.P.C.U., with Jane Welch as leader convenes at 4 p. m. and senior Y.P.C.U. at 6. A church meeting will be held in the vestry Monday evening at 7:30. Chapin Class will meet Tuesday evening with supper at Mrs. E. F. Berry's at 6 o'clock.

"Christ And My Problems" will be the subject of the sermon at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning at 10:30. The quartet will sing, "Lord of Our Life," "Nevin and 'Oh, For the Wings of a Dove,' Knight. A growing church school will meet at noon, and the Christian Endeavor meeting is at 6 o'clock, topic, "Heroes," leader, Kenneth Hooper. The people's evening service comes at 7:15 with songspiration period followed by special music by the quartet, "Tarry With Me O My Saviour," Piusini. Mr. MacDonald will have his reasons for not believing in "A General Resurrection and Judgment." Our happy prayer and praise meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:15. In this meeting begins another "Bible Book Month."

"The Simplicity That Is in Christ" is the subject of Mr. Kenderline's morning sermon at Pratt Memorial Methodist Church. The choir will sing "O Rest In the Lord," Mendelssohn, and "The Spacious Firmament," Heyser. Sunday School convenes at 12. The Epworth League will meet at 6 p. m. and the theme for discussion will be one of special interest presented by Miss Alena Young. At the evening service "The Abundant Life" will be presented in stereopticon pictures, and the service of worship will also be from the screen. The young people's orchestra will be present and the chorus choir will sing. Invite your friends. The mid-week service of prayer and praise will be held Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. The subject this week will be "Where Your Treasure Is."

Rev. L. G. Perry, pastor of the Littlefield Memorial Church, will take for his morning sermon the text, "The Grace of God." The choir will sing, "Oh, be joyful to the Lord," Lacey. There will be a junior church service held in the vestry at 10:30 led by Miss Olive Bragg for children from five to eleven years of age. Sunday School is at 11:45 a. m. with a place for everybody; B.Y.P.U. at 6:15 is led by Brainerd Thurston topic, "For What Shall I Live?" and evening service at 7:15, sermon subject, "Reading current events in the light of Bible prophecy." The choir will sing, "A hand held out," Sweeney, and a girls' trio will sing "His wonderful love." The Lord's supper will be observed. Prayer-meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30. On Thursday evening at 7:30, the Men's Bible Class will meet at E. C. Colburn's 144 Camden street with Rev. J. C. MacDonald as speaker.

Planes, Pilots—and Passengers

(By F. V. F.)
Quite a number of people are still availing themselves of penny-a-pound rides at the airport Sundays. Tomorrow will be the last Sunday that tickets issued by local merchants will be redeemed so anyone having enough for a flight had better go up and get their ride, or if they have not enough to make up their own weight turn them over to someone who weighs less.

During the last cold spell we had some of the toughest conditions for seaplane flying that we have experienced since the island run was started. It was not so bad for the passengers as for the pilot. They sat in the waiting room until the plane was ready to leave, but Jerry had to get into the plane, start the engine and warm it up before loading his passengers. This was usually a matter of half an hour, by which time he was thoroughly cold. Then it would take 10 or 15 minutes taxiing to get the loaded plane off the water, due to the weight of frozen spray which accumulates on the wings and struts. The passengers fly in one direction so they are not up long enough to get chilled, but after Jerry has been tending his boat for a few minutes in the open before starting on the trip, he has time to get plenty cold going over and coming back.

After twice being unable to start 87-K on the ramp where it had been cooling all night, and being forced to start with the passengers from the field in 114-H, the point of embarkation was transferred from the landing to the hangar. This simplified the matter of starting the engine but did not remedy the trouble with ice forming during taxiing. There is no element of danger in that, but it is very disagreeable to have to taxi around in sub-zero weather trying to get up enough speed to take off with the plane gradually assuming the appearance of an iceberg. The solution, which Capt. Wincapaw finally arrived at was land planes. With a perfectly reliable engine you are just as safe between here and Vinalhaven, North Haven, or Stonington, as in a seaplane. The pilot when flying a land plane on any of these island trips has sufficient altitude at all times to reach land in some direction with a dead motor.

One day Jerry had so much trouble with the ice that he finally found it necessary to pull it back on the ramp and pound it off the wings and tail. This delayed him an hour in starting so that he did not get in until after dark. Then he found the tide had ebbed and he could not get the plane onto the ramp so he was forced to take off again and bring her up to the field. It sounded rather weird, buzzing overhead in the dark and the cold.

Tuesday night Bean flew the Travel Air over to Vinalhaven on the evening run. He picked up six Rockland men who make a regular weekly business trip to North Haven and Vinalhaven, going over on the steamer and returning by plane. Heretofore it has been necessary to make two trips in order to bring them all back but with the sea frozen over it is possible to send the Travel Air and pick them all up at once. The men were F. A. Maxey, for St. Clair and Allen; Nelson Carr, William Weed and C. E. Merritt, representing the National Biscuit and Sunshine Biscuit, respectively; Fred Jordan, of John Bird Co.; and Henry Jordan of the Rockland Wholesale Grocery.

Wednesday Capt. Wincapaw set out for Boston about 8:30 a. m. in the

2-for-1 Sale of Wall Papers
Commencing Feb. 5—For 1 Week
BUY NOW FOR FUTURE USE
10c PAPERS, 2 ROLLS FOR 10c
15c PAPERS, 2 ROLLS FOR 15c
25c PAPERS, 2 ROLLS FOR 25c
50c PAPERS, 2 ROLLS FOR 50c
AND ALL OTHER GRADES INCLUDED 1931 GOODS ALL IN BAND AND BORDERS WITH ALL PAPERS
C. M. BLAKE'S
TELEPHONE 1061 NORTHEND ROCKLAND 14-15

but as is often the case with these unusual happenings it was not very comfortable for Jerry.

If passengers realize the difficulties pilots and mechanics have to contend with during zero weather we feel certain they will be more patient when the plane does not take off on the minute.

Sunday Pilots Treat and Bean set out separately to do a little barnstorming but the people just didn't want to ride at the places they went to, in spite of the nice warm cabin ships and the mild weather. This barnstorming may not be regulated by chance but there are certainly so many unknown elements contributing that it might as well be pure chance.

Leon H. Tangway has a position with Stearns Marine Co. of Boston as head of its aviation department. It is a very recent development as far as "Tang" is concerned, and apparently came to him with no effort on his part. It just goes to show that a good man can get a job in the worst times.

Travel Air, Bean piloting. He planned to return Thursday but was held in Boston on account of weather conditions. Adriel U. Bird, who had business in Boston, accompanied them on the trip.

Dr. Poppstone of Swan's Island came in today to express his appreciation to Jerry and to Curtis-Wright for the emergency service rendered in transporting Miss Marion Van Horn from Swan's Island to Rockland. She was suffering from acute attack of appendicitis but by bringing her over here in the plane it was possible to operate on her before her condition became too grave to be remedied. That makes two out of three lives saved undoubtedly through use of that service.

Irvin Cobb devoted his attention to art in last night's broadcast. "A Futurist," said he, "begins where a cubist leaves off, and grows worse."

The list of Canadian stations last night included CHNS of Halifax. It was my first experience with it this winter.

BORN
MESSER—At Union, Jan. 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Messer, a daughter, Jacqueline Vera.
DEARBORN—At Union, Jan. 26, to Mr. and Mrs. Bert H. Dearborn, a son, Weston G.
KENNEDY—At Union, Jan. 27, to Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kennedy, a son, Arthur Milton.

DIED
INGRAM—At South Thomaston, Jan. 29, Jean, widow of John Ingram, aged 85 years, 9 months, 3 days. Funeral Saturday at 2 o'clock.
QUIMBY—At Thomaston, Jan. 30, Sarah E., widow of Albert Quimby, aged 77 years, 7 months, 5 days. Funeral private.
STOWELL—At Rockland, Jan. 30, William L. Stowell, aged 21 years, 5 months, 8 days. Funeral Monday at 2 o'clock from late residence, 118 Camden street.

Victor Radio
As reliable as the Victrola
$112.50 up
Maine Music Store
ROCKLAND, ME.
124-1f

LAMB'S SPECIAL
FOR 1 WEEK ONLY
FEBRUARY 2-7, INCLUSIVE
LADIES' COATS
Winter Coats—Summer Coats—Light Coats—White Coats—Fur Trimmed Coats—Any Coats except Fur Coats
CLEANSED and PRESSED
$1.00
Regular Price $2.00 and $2.50
We have a well equipped plant and eight experienced people who must be kept busy. This is your opportunity to get "Lamb's" Quality Work at Bargain Prices. No charge accounts at this price.
WE CALL FOR AND DELIVER AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
ARTHUR F. LAMB
Cleansing Dyeing Pressing
Rockland, Maine
1-416

The Mazaroff Mystery

by J.S. Fletcher

WNU SERVICE

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Mervyn Holt, bachelor World War veteran, is engaged in London, by a man calling himself Salina Mazaroff, as a traveling companion. After a short tour they put up at the Woodcock Inn, on Mazaroff's moor. They meet, casually, Mrs. Elphinstone and Miss Merichon, and later, Mazaroff informs Holt that he is his wife and daughter, who have been believed him dead. Mazaroff's right name, he tells Holt, is Merichon. He had left his wife shortly after their marriage, before the birth of the girl, of whose existence he had been unaware. That night Mazaroff falls to return to the hotel, and there is no explanation of his disappearance.

CHAPTER II.—Holt meets Miss Merichon—Shelia—and with her goes to her cousin's (Vernor Court) shooting box, hoping to learn of Mazaroff's whereabouts. At Court-hope's is a man named Armistead, a London doctor, who tells Holt that Mazaroff's body is found in "Reiver's" den. He has been shot. The dead man's lawyer, Crole, with Maythorne, private inquiry agent, arrives, Crole having heard of his client's disappearance. They immediately Mazaroff carried diamonds worth a large sum, and was in the habit of making a display of them incessantly. Neither the diamonds, nor anything of value, are found on Mazaroff's body.

CHAPTER III.—Mrs. Elphinstone meets Holt, and produces apparent proofs of his death. Maythorne finds something of the scene of the murder, and pockets it. A gun found near the spot is identified as the property of Mazaroff, landlord of the Woodcock Inn. It had been stolen from him.

CHAPTER IV.—Evidence at the inquest proves "Mazaroff" was Merichon. His will, made a few days before his death, leaves all his money, an immense amount, to Holt. Mazaroff had the will in his possession, and it is missing. A shifty character named Parslave is found to have left Mazaroff's room hurriedly. From Mazaroff's papers it is learned that Herman Kloop, a friend of Mazaroff in South Africa,

CHAPTER V.—Kloop tells Crole "Mazaroff" had two remarkable diamonds in his possession. It is learned that he had offered to sell these to Lord and Lady Loeke. Lord Loeke says "Mazaroff" had carried these stones and Armistead had carried them. Maythorne brings his clerk, Cottingham, into the room, and, as an investigator, Shelia comes, alone, to Holt's rooms, in London. Maythorne is there.

CHAPTER VI.—The girl has Merichon's missing will, which she has "stolen" from her mother. Her explanation seems to link Mrs. Elphinstone with the murder. Maythorne, produces a brooch, the object he had found at the scene of the murder. Shelia does not recognize it.

CHAPTER VII.—Parslave is seen on the street and followed to Eccleshare's house. A watch is kept on the place, and Mrs. Elphinstone comes to London. The latter refuses to make any explanation as to her possession of the brooch. Armistead explains he bought two rare diamonds from "Mazaroff" at Mazaroff's moor, and gives the purchase price to Holt, as "Mazaroff's" heir.

CHAPTER VIII.—Sergeant Manners and a Scotland Yard man, Corkendale, visit Maythorne. Manners tells him Parslave was seen the night of the murder, with Eccleshare, near where Merichon's body was found. Eccleshare's explanation completely contradicts that of Parslave. Both men, however, declare they saw Mrs. Elphinstone at the scene of the murder, that night.

CHAPTER VIII. CONTINUED.

No one answered. Manners moved uneasily in his chair; the man from New Scotland Yard preserved a grim, stony countenance. Maythorne showed what seemed to be indifference; Crole and myself looked on. There was a brief silence—broken by Manners.

"I should like to know what Parslave has to say about his movements that night," he said. "A rare lot of trouble he's given us."

"I'm quite sure that Parslave hasn't the slightest notion that he gave you any trouble," remarked Eccleshare. "You forget, I think, that Parslave can't read—so he hasn't learned anything from the newspapers. But—Parslave, tell Sergeant Manners what you did that evening you left Mazaroff's."

Parslave, thus bidden, screwed up his face to the feat of remembrance.

"Cloughthwaite fair day that was!" he said. "I'd been there. Come away from there end of the afternoon. Then I went home, and according to orders—doctor's orders, there—changed clothes. 'Cause why? I was to go to London that night. Got my supper then. After that walked along to the Woodcock. I went in there and had a pint—the strange gentleman was stopping there. He came into the room where there was a regular crowd of us, doctors and shenherds and such like. He stood around—drinks and smokes. Cautious he was. Then he went away. I stopped a bit longer, then I went off. To meet the doctor there—by arrangement. I met him. That's all as I did that night—before leaving."

"Did you ever mention to anybody that you were going to London?" asked Maythorne.

"No, master. I never did," replied Parslave. "Hadt'n no cause to. I'm a lone man—neither kid nor kin, nobody to leave. Paid up."

"We were on the lower one—perhaps a hundred yards from Reiver's den," continued Eccleshare.

"Where did you meet Doctor Eccleshare?" asked Manners.

"Where it had been arranged," replied Parslave, promptly. "Near Reiver's den. He was to be there and give me orders and my traveling money. And there he was!"

"Just so!" Eccleshare said. "There I was—and I think I'd better tell you as things are precisely what happened. Possibly, I ought to have told all this before. But I had reasons for silence."

I felt that at last there was going to be some revelations as to the murder of Mazaroff which, up to then, had never been made. And I began to feel a curiously sickening sense of apprehension, not unconnected with the events of the previous evening. Eccleshare knew something—so, too, probably, did Parslave. But—what?

did, where I lodged—and just went off."

"Where did you meet Doctor Eccleshare?" asked Manners.

"Where it had been arranged," replied Parslave, promptly. "Near Reiver's den. He was to be there and give me orders and my traveling money. And there he was!"

"Just so!" Eccleshare said. "There I was—and I think I'd better tell you as things are precisely what happened. Possibly, I ought to have told all this before. But I had reasons for silence."

I felt that at last there was going to be some revelations as to the murder of Mazaroff which, up to then, had never been made. And I began to feel a curiously sickening sense of apprehension, not unconnected with the events of the previous evening. Eccleshare knew something—so, too, probably, did Parslave. But—what?

"I say, I had reasons for keeping silence," continued Eccleshare, settling down to talk to us. "I had—strong enough for me. Perhaps I've been wrong—perhaps in these cases—nobody should keep silent under any circumstances. And yet—you'll see, as men, that I had reasons, and weighty ones. Now I'll tell you—as it seems absolutely necessary—precisely what happened to Parslave and myself on the night on which Mazaroff was murdered. Let me begin at the beginning. Before I went up north, to Mazaroff's, I'd decided to sell my practice—had sold it, in fact—and to leave England for South America and a quite different life—prospecting, shooting, hunting, and that sort of thing. I wanted to take with me a man who'd be useful to me—preferably a countryman; a gamekeeper, used to outdoor life, was the sort of man I had in mind. At Mazaroff's I came across Parslave—as you can see for yourself, he's just the wiry, muscular sort of chap that was wanted. He is, as he's said just now, a lone man—nothing to the him to England. He's thoroughly up in woodcraft and that sort of thing; in short, he was the very man I was looking for. I broached the matter to him, and we very soon came to terms. There were certain things that he could do for me here in London, so I arranged that he should come in advance of me and stay at my house until my return. We arranged further that on the night after Cloughthwaite fair, which he had to attend on business, he was to meet me, and I was then to give him money and some final instructions and he was to leave for Newcastle and London."

"Why by Newcastle?" asked Maythorne. "It's a detail, but why not by Black Giff Junction and Carlisle?"

"The more usual western route," I told him, "answered me. Eccleshare," Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we went there, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Mazaroff's, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'm coming to that, now," continued Eccleshare. "I had told Parslave to meet me on the path between High Cap Lodge and the Woodcock about eight o'clock. I strolled out to meet him, as soon as dinner was over at Courthouse. That would be about ten minutes to eight. We met a little to the further side—the side nearest the Woodcock—of Reiver's den. As far as I can recollect, it would then be just after eight o'clock. We stood a few minutes, talking. Then—"

"A moment, if you please," interrupted Maythorne. He produced a memorandum book and laying it open on the table before him, drew Eccleshare's attention to a rough diagram pencilled on one of the pages. "Here's a sketch that I made the day of my arrival at the Woodcock," he said. "A sketch of the paths across the moor. Now there are two paths that lead from the direction of High Cap Lodge and go towards the Woodcock. One leads directly across the front of Reiver's den, at the very foot of the rocks—we'll call them the high-er one. The other is some fifteen or twenty yards lower down—amongst the heather; we'll call that the lower one. Which path were you and Parslave on?"

Eccleshare bent over the diagram for a moment, twisting it round so as to get a clear idea of its geography. He put his finger on a spot.

"We were on the lower one," he said. "On the lower one. But I don't know if you've made it quite plain those two paths (one, the lower one's a mere sheep track) almost meet on the west side, the High Cap Lodge side of Reiver's den, near Cowie's cottage. They're only separated there by a yard or two. Then the lower one goes away through the heather to the top side of High Cap Lodge; the other one passes High Cap Lodge on the lower side at fifty or sixty yards distance and breaks into the moorland road to Cloughthwaite."

"Well," said Maythorne. "Any way—you and Parslave were on the lower one."

"We were on the lower one—perhaps a hundred yards from Reiver's den," continued Eccleshare.

"Where did you meet Doctor Eccleshare?" asked Manners.

"Where it had been arranged," replied Parslave, promptly. "Near Reiver's den. He was to be there and give me orders and my traveling money. And there he was!"

"Just so!" Eccleshare said. "There I was—and I think I'd better tell you as things are precisely what happened. Possibly, I ought to have told all this before. But I had reasons for silence."

I felt that at last there was going to be some revelations as to the murder of Mazaroff which, up to then, had never been made. And I began to feel a curiously sickening sense of apprehension, not unconnected with the events of the previous evening. Eccleshare knew something—so, too, probably, did Parslave. But—what?

"I say, I had reasons for keeping silence," continued Eccleshare, settling down to talk to us. "I had—strong enough for me. Perhaps I've been wrong—perhaps in these cases—nobody should keep silent under any circumstances. And yet—you'll see, as men, that I had reasons, and weighty ones. Now I'll tell you—as it seems absolutely necessary—precisely what happened to Parslave and myself on the night on which Mazaroff was murdered. Let me begin at the beginning. Before I went up north, to Mazaroff's, I'd decided to sell my practice—had sold it, in fact—and to leave England for South America and a quite different life—prospecting, shooting, hunting, and that sort of thing. I wanted to take with me a man who'd be useful to me—preferably a countryman; a gamekeeper, used to outdoor life, was the sort of man I had in mind. At Mazaroff's I came across Parslave—as you can see for yourself, he's just the wiry, muscular sort of chap that was wanted. He is, as he's said just now, a lone man—nothing to the him to England. He's thoroughly up in woodcraft and that sort of thing; in short, he was the very man I was looking for. I broached the matter to him, and we very soon came to terms. There were certain things that he could do for me here in London, so I arranged that he should come in advance of me and stay at my house until my return. We arranged further that on the night after Cloughthwaite fair, which he had to attend on business, he was to meet me, and I was then to give him money and some final instructions and he was to leave for Newcastle and London."

"Why by Newcastle?" asked Maythorne. "It's a detail, but why not by Black Giff Junction and Carlisle?"

"The more usual western route," I told him, "answered me. Eccleshare," Parslave has some interest in a bit of cottage property in Newcastle; as he was leaving England he wanted to see a solicitor in Newcastle who manages that property and to give him some instructions about it. So we went there, after seeing me, he was to cross the moor to that little branch line that runs east of Mazaroff's, catch the last train to Newcastle, stay the night there, see his solicitor in the morning, and then go on to King's Cross. All of which, he will tell you himself, he did."

"Very well—and your meeting that night?" asked Maythorne.

"I'm coming to that, now," continued Eccleshare. "I had told Parslave to meet me on the path between High Cap Lodge and the Woodcock about eight o'clock. I strolled out to meet him, as soon as dinner was over at Courthouse. That would be about ten minutes to eight. We met a little to the further side—the side nearest the Woodcock—of Reiver's den. As far as I can recollect, it would then be just after eight o'clock. We stood a few minutes, talking. Then—"

"A moment, if you please," interrupted Maythorne. He produced a memorandum book and laying it open on the table before him, drew Eccleshare's attention to a rough diagram pencilled on one of the pages. "Here's a sketch that I made the day of my arrival at the Woodcock," he said. "A sketch of the paths across the moor. Now there are two paths that lead from the direction of High Cap Lodge and go towards the Woodcock. One leads directly across the front of Reiver's den, at the very foot of the rocks—we'll call them the high-er one. The other is some fifteen or twenty yards lower down—amongst the heather; we'll call that the lower one. Which path were you and Parslave on?"

Eccleshare bent over the diagram for a moment, twisting it round so as to get a clear idea of its geography. He put his finger on a spot.

"We were on the lower one," he said. "On the lower one. But I don't know if you've made it quite plain those two paths (one, the lower one's a mere sheep track) almost meet on the west side, the High Cap Lodge side of Reiver's den, near Cowie's cottage. They're only separated there by a yard or two. Then the lower one goes away through the heather to the top side of High Cap Lodge; the other one passes High Cap Lodge on the lower side at fifty or sixty yards distance and breaks into the moorland road to Cloughthwaite."

"Well," said Maythorne. "Any way—you and Parslave were on the lower one."

"We were on the lower one—perhaps a hundred yards from Reiver's den," continued Eccleshare.

"Where did you meet Doctor Eccleshare?" asked Manners.

"Where it had been arranged," replied Parslave, promptly. "Near Reiver's den. He was to be there and give me orders and my traveling money. And there he was!"

"Just so!" Eccleshare said. "There I was—and I think I'd better tell you as things are precisely what happened. Possibly, I ought to have told all this before. But I had reasons for silence."

"As I was saying, we stood there a few minutes talking. It was then quite dark, but a clear, starlit night. We were just moving away, in the High Cap Lodge direction, when we heard a shot fired. It seemed, as far as we could make out, to be in Reiver's den, or just beyond it—I think it must have been in Reiver's den, because there was a distinct echo from the rocks. We heard nothing follow—no cry, scream, anything of that sort. Neither of us took any particular notice—I think we each had the same idea; that it was a gamekeeper who was after something. In fact, we heeded it so little that we went on talking about our own business for a minute or two after the shot was fired. Then because it was time for Parslave to get on his way, I told him to get on his way—coming over to the other path because it leads directly to the moorland road. We had just got on it when we heard steps coming along from the direction of Reiver's den. There were some high, thick bushes close by, and—I really don't know why we did it, but we did—we sort of instinctively moved into their shadow, where it was quite dark. And then, a minute later, walking very swiftly a woman passed us."

"A woman?"

It was Manners who let out this sharp exclamation. Like all the rest of us he had been following Eccleshare closely; now he showed signs of excitement; clearly, some notion had suddenly come to him.

"A woman!" repeated Eccleshare, quietly. "A woman—tall, slender, walking very quickly indeed—we heard her breathing, sharply. She was past and gone, like a flash."

"In which direction?" asked Maythorne.

"Towards Mazaroff's," replied Eccleshare.

"And then?" suggested Maythorne after a brief pause.

"Then Parslave and I went on again—he was getting pressed for time. We neither heard nor saw anything there. We passed Cowie's cottage. You say Cowie saw us together. Probable—but we never saw him. We walked quickly across the moor, struck the high road, and parted. I went into High Cap Lodge, and Parslave—but let Parslave tell you what he did."

We all turned to Parslave, who still sat perched on the edge of a chair near the door, twiddling his thumbs.

"I went straight along the road to Petherly station, then," said Parslave. "Caught the nine-fifteen train—last train that is to Newcastle. Got to Newcastle at ten-fifty. Put up at a temperance, near the station, for the night. Went to see Mr. Graham, the lawyer, as soon as I'd had my breakfast next morning—about ten o'clock, that 'ud be. When I'd done with him, got a bit of a snack, and then caught the twelve-ten express to London. Got to King's Cross at a quarter to seven that evening. Came straight here—and been here ever since."

"Let me ask Mr. Parslave a question while I think of it," said Crole. "Parslave!—do you mean to say that since you left Mazaroff's, you've never heard of the murder there?—from the newspapers?"

"I can't read, sir," answered Parslave. "I've no scholarship. Can't neither read nor write."

"But you've been in the company of Doctor Eccleshare's housekeeper," continued Crole. "Do you mean to say that she's never read anything about it to you—out of the papers?"

Parslave shook his head.

"No, sir—she hasn't," he replied. "Don't seem a paper-reading woman, that. Her reads them story papers—tales—such like. But I ain't seen her a-reading of newspapers."

"Well, but you've no doubt been in the habit since you've been here, of going out to have a glass of ale at some public house or other," persisted Crole. "Have you never heard it mentioned at such times?"

"No, sir," answered Parslave, with solemn assurance. "Never! I always go out to take a pint of ale at the public up the street, but I ain't never talked to nobody—don't understand this London talk—'tis all so much furrin language to me. And I ain't never heard nobody talking of the murder."

"You can take it from me, Mr. Crole," said Eccleshare, "that Parslave never heard of Mazaroff's murder at all until last night, when I returned home. I told him—we had a talk last night about our own experiences near Reiver's den that evening—in the light of what we remembered, of course."

"That's just what I want to ask you some questions about, Doctor," said Crole. "It seems to me that we're getting nearer a solution of this mystery near Reiver's den that evening. Now, you won't mind if I ask you a few straightforward questions?"

"Ask me anything you like," replied Eccleshare.

"You were at the inquest on Mazaroff's body at the Woodcock, sir?"

"You gave evidence,"

"Purely professional evidence," interrupted Eccleshare.

"Precisely—as to the cause of death," assented Crole. "Now, why didn't you tell the coroner and the jury what you've told us just now?"

"And—if I may put a word in," said Manners, quickly, "why didn't you tell us—the police—all you've told us about Parslave, when you knew quite well that we were looking for him?"

"As to your question, Manners, I wasn't aware of the hue-and-cry for Parslave to the extent you think," answered Eccleshare. "My time wasn't spent in the Mazaroff district, so much as on the east side of my host's house. As to yours, Crole—well, I've told you I possibly made a mistake—no doubt I did. But I had reason for silence. They're easily summed up. The person that Parslave and I saw hurrying away from Reiver's den, where, presumably, murder had just been committed—was a woman."

Crole summoned our undivided attention with a swift glance round the table. He went forward to Eccleshare.

"Now, Doctor," he said. "Don't let's beat about the bush any longer—it's got at the truth, however unpleasant it may be. Did you form any opinion as to who that woman was?"

Eccleshare made a gesture of dislike at the situation. But he bowed his head and replied without hesitation.

"I did—certainly."

"Who was she?"

"Mrs. Elphinstone."

"You feel sure of that?"

"Positive—without doubt. Ask Parslave."

Crole turned sharply on Parslave. And Parslave threw up his head with a jerk.

"What do you say, Parslave? Who was the woman that passed you?"

"Mistress Elphinstone, sir—no doubt! It! Never had no doubt—myself."

Crole turned again to Eccleshare.

"You said it was dark, then, but clear, starlit. How did you recognize her?"

"Figure, walk, profile," replied Eccleshare. "I'd no doubt at the time, and I've none now. The woman who passed Parslave and myself just after—at least almost just after—we heard the shot fired, was Mrs. Elphinstone."

"That's why you kept silence?" suggested Crole.

"I thought things out, next morning," answered Eccleshare. "I kept silence—Parslave, of course, had gone. I—well, I didn't want to give a woman away. And after all—there might be explanations."

"Explanations!" exclaimed Crole.

"Here's something that needs explanation," interrupted Maythorne. "Doctor Eccleshare and Parslave agree that they heard a shot fired near Reiver's den soon after eight o'clock. Old Mr. Hassenstam told us, Crole, when you, Holt, and myself met him there, that he heard a shot fired, about ten o'clock. Now then—which of those shots was it that killed Mazaroff? Remember!—neither Eccleshare nor Parslave saw anything of Mazaroff near Reiver's den at eight o'clock. And yet if the eight o'clock shot killed him, he must have been about there when they were. What do you make of that?"

"Don't know—it needs thinking out," answered Crole. "But—to my mind, the pertinent thing is this: Doctor Eccleshare and Parslave are both dead certain they saw Mrs. Elphinstone come away from Reiver's den, where, afterwards Mazaroff's lifeless body was found, robbed of money, valuables, papers, and his will. Now then, neither Manners nor Corkendale know this—and I'm going to tell them, as police officers. A few nights after the murder, Mrs. Elphinstone was found to be in possession of the will! How did she get it?"

(To Be Continued)

OUR JUNIOR PUZZLE

WHAT DOES PUSSY SAY?

Bessie wants to know what Pussy says. Bessie says she seems to be saying "Puss" quite plainly. Now, you'll say to yourself, "Pussy says, take a pencil and join all the numbered dots together, starting with dot number one, and ending with dot number twenty-five." The word is a noun of four letters.

COUGHS, GENUINE FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

OVER 100 MILLION BOTTLES USED

MIRACLES by A.J. Dunlap

The miracles of ancient times—Like Jonah and the whale; The talking ass that Balaam rode; The cruse that could not fail—May prove that God abides somewhere, But better far to me, The old farm has her miracles That all can hear and see.

In anxious call of mother beasts And cry of turtle dove, The understanding heart discerns The miracle of Love. The miracle of Life and Death Stands boldly on display. When new-born things lie dead at birth—A scrap of useless clay.

The yawning hill-top's rugged cup That holds the blood-red sun Proclaims the miracle of Power When day is nearly done. The miracle of Spring each year Arrives on tree and vine No trouble on the farm at all To prove a Power Divine.

WHAT'S WRONG AND WHERE?

How good are you at finding mistakes? The artist has intentionally made several obvious ones in drawing the above picture. Some of them are easily discovered, others may be hard. See how long it will take YOU to find them.

COURIER-GAZETTE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

- | | | |
|----------------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------------------|
| HORIZONTAL | HORIZONTAL (Cont.) | VERTICAL (Cont.) |
| 1-Portion | 44-Point of compass (abbr.) | 16-Disturb |
| 6-To travel on foot | 45-Negative reply (abbr.) | 17-Organ of hearing |
| 11-Alters the color | 46-To grow old | 23-Wants |
| 13-Viper | 48-Balls gently | 24-Rows |
| 14-Skull | 50-Feminine name | 25-Shore bird having long legs |
| 15-Manufacturing city of Prussia | 51-A strong twilled cloth | 26-To be sentimental |
| 18-God (Latin) | 53-Weeds | 28-Meridian (abbr.) |
| 19-Right side (abbr.) | 55-Negotiate | 30-Without leaving |
| 20-A beverage | 56-Froth | 34-Lack |
| 21-2000 pounds (abbr.) | | 35-In a new way |
| 22-Even (Poet.) | | 36-Smallest |
| 24-Falshippers | | 37-Anxious |
| 26-Point of compass (abbr.) | | 39-Feminine name |
| 27-A high Turkish official | | 41-Mountain range in South America |
| 29-Cease | | 42-To drink the health of |
| 31-Observed | | 47-Before |
| 32-A metal | | 49-Pen for swine |
| 33-Hauled | | 50-Masculine name |
| 35-A singing voice | | 52-Southern State (abbr.) |
| 36-The (Fr.) | | 54-Of age (Latin, abbr.) |
| 38-To canonize | | |
| 40-Masculine name (short) | | |
| 43-Each (abbr.) | | |
| | VERTICAL | |
| | 1-Steady gaze | |
| | 2-Draft animal | |
| | 3-Insect | |
| | 4-Musical note | |
| | 5-Point of compass (abbr.) | |
| | 6-A color | |
| | 7-A thoroughfare (abbr.) | |
| | 8-Augment | |
| | 9-Joins | |
| | 10-Lying flat | |
| | 12-At sea | |

Adventure in the Blood

By MARTHA WILLIAMS

BENJY kicked aside the bear skin before the hall fire. "Now, let's talk, business—with the bark on," he said. "What business?" asked Uncle Benjamin.

"Making my fortune."

"Why not marry it?"

"Against my fine scruples. I know Trent has a hundred thousand and a father—let us hope in heaven. She has also a swarm of fortune hunters pestering her constantly. I won't join 'em. With-out vanity I'm up to average, but I'll never set any financial risks unless I first set a spring branch."

Fight Against "Sun Starvation" Meets Approval of U.S. Public Health Service

Miss Frances Guman, popular Broadway actress, believes in sunshine as an aid to health and beauty. She is shown here taking a carbon arc sun bath between rehearsals of her new musical comedy "You Don't Say So." The lamp is one of the "screened" type, approved by the U. S. Public Health Service.

THE use of artificial sunshine as an escape from "sun starvation" under modern living conditions has received the approval of the U. S. Public Health Service.

In an official bulletin just issued, the first comprehensive statement on this subject ever released by a government agency, the Service goes on record as approving the use of health lamps which give an approximate duplication of natural sunlight. At the same time it warns the public against the use of "un-screened" devices producing short ultra-violet rays in unnatural intensity.

"Since the amount of natural light from the sun, especially in the geographical location, the season of the year, and such local conditions as the amount of dust, smoke and moisture in the atmosphere under some conditions, reliance must be placed on sources of artificial radiation," the statement reads.

Discussing the types of lamps being sold to the public, the Service points out that some lamps are so designed as to screen out the dangerous short rays of ultra-violet light and are safe for use in the home.

"These lamps," it states, "are so designed that the ultra-violet light and heat radiation emitted by them are combined as nearly as possible in the same proportions as in natural sunlight. Since the radiation from them is very similar to sunlight they may to a certain extent be used in place of, or as substitute for sunlight."

CIVIL SERVICE ROLL AT PEAK

Classified Employees Total Is the Highest Since World War.

Washington.—More civil service employees are on the payrolls today than at any time since the World War. It was revealed in the civil service commission's report to congress.

"There were," the report stated, "608,615 employees in the executive civil service on June 30, 1930, as against 587,965 at the end of the last fiscal year, a net increase of 21,250 employees."

"There are now 462,083 positions subject to competitive examinations under the civil service act, a gain of 16,128 during the year."

Veteran preference regulations. It is stated, have resulted in the appointment of 159,332 veterans to the classified service since 1919, this figure representing 24.64 per cent of all appointments; and from the issuance, March 3, 1923, of the executive order providing for a 10 point preference for disabled veterans, up to June 30 of this year, 9,258 disabled veterans were appointed, of whom 1,892 were appointed in the last year.

The great gain during the year of 1931 employees, was made by the Department of Commerce, accounted for in large part by the temporary force of census workers; and the greatest reduction of personnel, a total of 2,879, was made by the Navy department. A few establishments show a slight decline.

Postal Workers Increased.

The War department increased its force by 3,022 the Panama canal by 2,202, the Interior department by 2,001 and the Department of Agriculture by 1,741.

The postal service, with 316,965 employees, had a net increase of 2,290, and the other services of 19,560 during the year.

Women, according to the report, "are making rapid and substantial advances in federal establishments."

The commission renewed its recommendations for restoration of the classified service of the positions of deputy collector of internal revenue and deputy marshal, and its extension to include field Presidential positions which are non-policy determining, such as collectors of internal revenue, customs, and postmasters, dispensing with confirmation by the senate.

Progress of Women Noted.

Emphasizing its policy in the matter of extensions under the retirement law, the commission reaffirms its belief that "in order to effectuate the primary purpose of the act, continuance for more than four years beyond the retirement age must be confined to those employees who are engaged on important work which cannot be satisfactorily completed without them."

It is recognized, the report states, "that the separation of an experienced employee still able to serve acceptably after he is four years past retirement age is a loss to the government; but it must be borne to secure relief from the greater losses resulting from superannuation in the service."

Discussing the results of fingerprints in keeping undesirable applicants out of the federal service, the commission reports that "3,007 of these persons had police records either minor or serious."

Jail Mutineers on Yacht of Wealthy American

London.—Chinese ringleaders of a recent mutiny at Singapore aboard the American auxiliary yacht Shenandoah, owned by Gibson Falmestock, were sentenced to a month's imprisonment. The Chinese were closing in on the captain when Falmestock, a New York and Washington millionaire, took a hand and helped the officers head the crew back to their quarters, where they were subdued. Falmestock's wife and daughter and two other women were aboard.

U. S. Apprentices Wed; Lose Printing Jobs

Washington.—Five young men who married in New York were given an opportunity to repent at leisure. They were apprentices at the government printing office, where Public Printer George H. Carter has a hard and fast rule that there shall be no marrying or giving in marriage during the apprenticeship period. Their forced resignations were "without prejudice" to future civil service positions.

Englishmen Playing Auto Poker Fined in Court

Middlewich, Cheshire, England.—Auto "poker" has come to England. A policeman found five men exchanging money with the passing of each motor car. He learned they were gambling on the license plate numbers and placed them under arrest. Each man was fined $120.

Pee-Wee Money Soon Wears Out, U.S. Finds

Washington.—The Treasury department is worried because the new small size paper money apparently is not lasting as long as the larger bills, a house committee was told. The treasury is getting back more $5 bills and fewer $20 than with the larger money.

NIGHT COUGHS

Positively stopped almost instantly with one swallow of

THOXINE

THE GRADE SCHOOLS

Just Look At Nice Records They're Hanging Up On Purchase Street

Purchase Street, (General Notes): Teachers and pupils are enjoying the new pictures of "Old Ironsides" which have recently been hung in each room. Proceeds of the candy and sandwich sale provided the necessary money for framing. Thanks to Mr. Gregory who did the work at a considerable discount, there is still a bit of money left for some changes in the spring.

Through the generosity of three of the local service clubs, supplies for the hot lunches have been provided. The Lions Club donated "meat and sugar," the Neighborhood Club, a case of soup; and the Itoewick Club, a case of soup and macaroni. It is all gratefully received.

All of the rooms in the building are making a special effort to diminish the number of cases of tardiness. One room has had no tardy marks for four weeks. With the cooperation of all the parents, this will mean less time lost in school work and a splendid habit formed by the children.

The use of the drum has been added to the music of the victrola for marching this week. Dudley Harvey is the drummer boy and plays it very well although but six years old.

Grade Three, Helen Perry, teacher. These pupils were neither absent nor tardy for the last six weeks: William Ames, Harold Harvey, June Johnson, Mary Lombardo, Robert McCaslin, Mary McClure, Kenneth Rivers, Belva Robishaw, Martha Seaver, Ruth Staples, Roland Thompson, Pearl Webber, Russell Williamson, and Dorothy Widdecombe.

There is only one case of 10 percent underweight in this grade at present, and the dental honor roll has these new names added: Charles Nyström, Mary McClure, Charles Johnson, Belva Robishaw and James Curtis.

The honor roll, pupils receiving an average of 90 percent or more for the six weeks' ranking period, consists of the following: William Clough, Victoria Anastasio, Roland Thompson, and Charlotte Johnson. Harold Harvey, Pearl Webber and Kenneth Post attained an average of over 90 percent in arithmetic.

June Johnson, Charlotte Johnson, and Leola Knight have not missed one word in spelling during this ranking period.

Grade Three is glad to welcome back Robert Smith and Leola Knight who have been out sick a week.

Last month this room held the banner for the best attendance for the preceding four weeks. It is hoped to get it back next month.

The pupils taking home the largest number of good penmanship papers: Mary Lombardo 17, Harold Harvey and Charlotte Johnson 16, Grace Proctor, Dorothy Widdecombe and William Clough 15, June Johnson and Victoria Anastasio 14, Leola Knight, James Curtis and Linne Rivers 12. This number is quite encouraging as the use of ink has just been introduced and although it is fun, it usually takes some time to get well started. Some of the pupils are to use ink for their language and spelling work this month.

Grade Four, Susie Sleeper, teacher. Pupils having perfect attendance for the past six weeks are: Rose Athearn, Grace Athearn, Edith Berggren, James Bostick, Jean Clukey, George Condon, Katherine Delano, Joseph Dondis, Robert Harmon, George Harvey, Maurice Johnson, Sisko Lehto, Eleanor Mattattall, Virginia Rackliff, Arlene Sprout, Cecile Tardiff, John Welch, Frances Willey, Carleton Walker.

In the spelling contest the Reds are keeping ahead of the Blues.

Since the last monthly weighing period the following pupils have qualified for gold stars: Grace Athearn, Edith Berggren, Doris Blood, James Bostick, Raymond Brann, George Condon, Eileen Cates, Katherine Delano, Joseph Dondis, Reino Kanas, Ione Louraine, Virginia Rackliff, George Robishaw, Francis Robinson, Herbert Smith, Cecile Tardiff, Virginia Umer, John Welch, Frances Willey, Annie Willey.

Since the beginning of the year, Maurice Johnson, Edith Berggren, Sisko Lehto, Virginia Rackliff, Robert Harmon, Jean Clukey, Eileen Cates, Rose Athearn have held the highest rank in Arithmetic. Those deserving mention are George Condon, Cecile Tardiff, Eleanor Mattattall, John Welch, Ione Louraine, Doris Blood, Bernice Munro, William Weed.

The pupils of this grade are very grateful to James Skinner who brought to school a victrola. It adds much to the interest of the music, writing and physical exercise periods.

Incubators, Egg Testers, Brooders, Cream Separators, Stoves, Feed Fountains, Churns, Milk Carriers, Cans, Leg Bands, Egg Cases, Testers, Milk Coolers, Poultry Remedies, Etc., Strainers, Pails, Bells.

If you cannot conveniently come in, send for our catalog

Grade One, Mae Perry, teacher. Pupils having perfect attendance for the month were Joseph Anastasio, Robert Brooks, Maxine Cheyne, Alice Dolham, Clarence deRochemont, Robert Fosarty, Marion Hall, Dudley Harvey, Helen John, Priscilla MacCaslin, Viola Nickerson, John Nyström, Donald Payson, Kenneth Payson, Milton Roberts, Roland Robshaw, Evelyn Seavey, Minnie Smith, Donald Walker, Joseph Widdecombe and Barbara Cables.

Three new names have been added to the dental honor roll: Barbara Cables, Evelyn Seavey and Robert Brooks.

These pupils have had perfect arithmetic papers for the week: Marion Hall, Robert Kallcock, Harold Gregory, Clarence deRochemont, Virginia White, Gladys Curtis, Robert Brooks, Kenneth Payson, Joseph Anastasio, Milton Roberts, Cynthia Greeley, Dudley Harvey, Leona Grindie, Roland Robshaw, and Evelyn Seavey.

This grade has just finished the study of the Eskimo. These pupils were most interested in the book "A Queer Little Eskimo." They have made some very pretty booklets to illustrate their volume, also an Eskimo border for their blackboard.

Every Monday morning one of the members of the class reads a short story. Pupils having neat papers are chosen.

Virginia White, Dudley Harvey, Clarence deRochemont, and Cynthia Greeley have been selected to play in the rhythmic band conducted by Mrs. Johnson at the Rubinstein Club.

Grade Two, Mrs. Snow (Sub). Those who have perfect attendance for the last six weeks are: Sheldon Billings, Robert Dolham, Robert Drake, Seth Hanley, Joseph Lamb, Sumner Waldron, Evelyn Willis.

Perfect attendance all year: Sheldon Billings, Robert Dolham, Seth Hanley, Joseph Lamb, Evelyn Willis.

Among those who received 100 in arithmetic this term: Floyd Young, 1st; Leroy Firth, 2d; James Smith, Seth Hanley, Dorothy Fogg, Elmer Conroy, Phyllis Childs and Barbara Bloom, 3d.

Grade Two, Thelma Russell, teacher. During the last six weeks of school the following pupils have not been absent: Grace Blethen, Donald Borsperson, Clarence Butler, Richard Callahan, Russell Carter, June Chatto, Robert Childs, James Economy, Beverly Harmon, Ruth Lerman, Lucy Munro, Joseph Pietroski, Eliason Robinson, Louise Seavey, Harley Simmons, Dorothy Stearns, Jennie Thompson, Lucy Thompson, and William Young.

Louise Seavey leads the arithmetic honor roll, closely followed by Clarence Butler, Annie Brooks, Ruth Wilham, June Chatto, James Economy, Donald Cates, Madeline Hurd, James Moulaison, Elaine Ames and Ruth Lerman.

These names have been added to the dental honor roll since last fall: Donald Cates, Louise Seavey, Beverly Harmon, William Young, George Bodman, Richard Callahan, Alberta Johnson, Lucy Munro, Norma Meating, Lucy Thompson and Russell Carter.

Grades Three and Four, Helen Libby, teacher. These pupils have had perfect attendance during the past six weeks: Barbara Bodman, Helene Carnes, Eugene Conway, David Randman, Robert Rogers, Earl Townsend, Clyde Achorn, Richard Ames, Austin Billings, Maurice Escorsio.

Weight records are improving. All but seven pupils have gold stars now. Those who are underweight are encouraged to drink milk at school to bring their weight up to average.

These names have been added to the Dental Honor roll: William Staples, Earl Townsend, Ralph Munro, Richard Ames, Beverly Bowden, Zilda Russell, Barbara Bodman, Priscilla McGraw.

This room has the banner for having the best attendance for the past four weeks of school.

The efficiency of the interesting grade school department will be increased if teachers and pupils will kindly write on only one side of the paper. This request is also made to other contributors.—Ed.]

NORTH HAVEN

Mrs. Herman Crockett was in Rockland Wednesday.

Dr. Daniel Woodman, accompanied by Miss Grace Lawrence, Knox County field nurse for the State department of health, visited the Thoroughfare and North East schools Thursday for the physical examination of the pupils. Monday the other school will be visited and the work completed. Forty-four were examined. The North East school shows all the pupils there to be gold star ones. This means that examination shows no physical defects, and also means that in May this school receives a certificate from the State health day. Only two scholars in the Thoroughfare school show underweight and those but 10 per cent, which is an excellent showing. Of the 44 scholars examined in both schools, 34 show teeth defects, mostly of minor degree, this being due to the work that has been done upon the teeth each spring in the dental clinic conducted each year. Tonsil defect is found in 19 cases and of this number 10 should have medical attention before fall. Miss Lawrence is a registered nurse, and is one of the ablest in the employ of the State department.

Tuesday afternoon in cooperation with Dr. Woodman there will be held at the church rooms a health conference for mothers with children up to school age. Especially is it desirable for those with young babies to be present. This is a wonderful opportunity for mothers with their small children and it has a "keep the child well" program. Wherever this program has been carried out, as it has in scores of places in the State, mothers are deeply appreciative of the benefits received. Remember the time and place for this conference next Tuesday at 2 o'clock, at the church rooms.

Work On Old Church

As chairman of the committee appointed last summer to canvass for funds with which to repair the old Pulpit Harbor Church, Mrs. Eunice Brown renders the following report. From 120 island people there were collected $345; from 11 summer people, $255; three non-resident island people, $80. The repairs consisted of rebuilding the front tower, shingling it, repairing the bell-tower, reflooring the vestibule, putting new pipe into the furnace, painting the church and blinds, and other items, totaling $625.50; remaining on hand a balance of $51. In addition there is the $30 that the Willing Workers have on deposit; and the check from Mrs. Bray of Owl's Head for $47.72 to be used later for some special object, possibly chairs for the choir loft; also one pledge of $25 yet to be paid. Thus the repairs have been made and paid for and a snug balance left over to meet the

Notes of the Church

Wednesday night at the church was held a meeting in the interests of the Red Cross. From funds in hand it was voted to contribute $50 toward the relief of the people in the states suffering from the year's drought.

The regular business of the church was held Monday night and reports of the secretary and treasurer read and accepted. Encouraging remarks were made by Frank Beverage, Mrs. Albert Beverage, Miss Albra Stone and the pastor.

Next Sunday night the young people will have charge of the meeting. The junior choir directed and trained by Dorothy Stone will sing, the orchestra will play as usual, and the pastor will speak at the close. Sunday morning the church school convenes at 9.45, at 11 o'clock, worship with sermon by the pastor, subject, "Paul at Athens." The young ladies choir will sing. Attendance of the people at these services is urged as nothing can help more in creating a wholesome community life than interests of the church.

Dr. Flexner's charge that American education has become "a bargain-counter system" meets with scant credence among fathers who have sons and daughters in college.—Arizona Producer.

NOW OPEN—The New HOTEL EDISON

"A hotel worthy of its name"

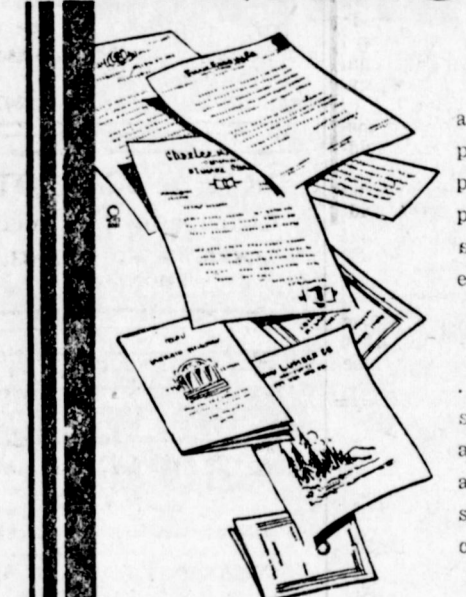

47th St., just west of Broadway, New York

In the center of the city's business, shopping and theatre districts, HOTEL EDISON establishes a new high standard of accommodations, so moderately priced as to make this hotel your outstanding choice in New York.

To meet the present-day demand for luxury as well as economy, we have built lavishly large rooms, furnished them beautifully and installed every modern convenience, such as radio, private bath and shower, circulating ice water, full length mirrors, two large closets, etc.

1000 ROOMS
1000 BATHS
RADIO in every room
SINGLE from $2.50
DOUBLE from $4.00
SUITES from $7.00
Special rates for permanent guests
For banquets a beautiful hall room seating up to 1200 persons is available
William F. Thomann, Manager
Telephone PEan. 6-3600

JOB PRINTING

Permit us to create a personality in your printing work... such personality as you would prefer in the human salesman that you would employ.

We plan and print... booklets, inserts, sales bills, broadsides, announcements, office and factory forms and supply estimates on a competitive basis.

THE COURIER-GAZETTE
ROCKLAND, MAINE

WALDOBORO

Mrs. G. H. Schofield and Miss Gladys Bailey were in Portland over the weekend.

Robey R. Wiley has returned from Massachusetts.

Mrs. Maude Clark Gay is attending the meeting of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs in Augusta.

Mrs. S. H. Weston entertained the Star Club Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Crowell was elected president; Mrs. A. L. Shorey, vice president; Mrs. Ida Porter Soule, secretary; Mrs. I. P. Bailey, treasurer.

Mrs. Florence Shuman is visiting her sister in Oshkosh.

Miss Annie O. Well has returned from Portland where she was called by the illness of her brother, Lowell Well.

Arthur S. Cressey of Gorham is employed in Bossa's drug store, taking the place of Harold Clark during his illness.

C. H. Howard of Augusta has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Dora Edward York.

The Ramblers defeated the Camden Athletic Club 39 to 33 in a swift game of basketball and the Cubs lost to the Texacos 14 to 16, at the Medomak athletic hall Thursday evening.

The Woman's Club was pleasantly entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Shorey. Mrs. J. H. Lovell read an interesting paper on "The Food Problem," bringing before the members the serious situation which would confront the world in future years. Current events were discussed. Those present were Mrs. S. H. Weston, Mrs. Emma T. Potter, Mrs. Dora H. York, Mrs. A. N. Smith, Mrs. A. P. Jackson, Mrs. M. I. Lee, Mrs. A. P. Bond, Miss Marion Clark, Mrs. Earle Spear, Mrs. John Redman, Mrs. W. H. Crowell, Mrs. C. B. Stahl, Mrs. W. G. Labe, Miss Grace York, Mrs. J. T. Gay, Mrs. Lovell and Mrs. Shorey. The meeting of next week will be with Mrs. H. H. Kuhn.

Miss Irma Waltz

Miss Irma Waltz, 54, died Monday after a long illness. She was the daughter of I. W. C. and Maria (Dresser) Waltz and was born in Waldoboro. She is survived by five sisters, Mrs. Mary H. Achorn, Miss Laila A. Waltz, Mrs. Louganda Rowe, Mrs. Eda M. Hoak of Waldoboro and Mrs. Bessie L. Kingsbury of Portland. Funeral services were held Thursday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary H. Achorn, with Rev. George W. Collins, pastor of the Baptist Church officiating. The body was placed in the receiving tomb at the German cemetery.

ROCKVILLE

During the past week Chickawaunkie pond has been the scene of considerable activity as ice harvesting has been in full operation. The Samost ice has been cut well in the center of the pond. Ice houses owned by Whalen, Havener and the Rockland Coal Co. are being filled. Mr. Whalen has about completed his harvesting. Several inches of snow ice have to be removed, but the blocks are of excellent size and clearness.

It is an unusual sight to see foxes around one's field or playing in the pasture. However, one of the six little animals was seen crossing the pond Sunday, and Monday morning some of the men of the village witnessed two foxes playing on the hillside of the Barrows farm, only a short distance from the main highway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ranlett attended the regular meeting of the Spanish War Veterans and the Ladies' Auxiliary Wednesday evening in Rockland.

Miss Mary Bird was one of the soloists at the musicale given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. David Talbot in Rockland. Mrs. E. H. Perry was a guest, accompanying Miss Bird.

Another gangster has been arrested in Chicago. Probably for parking his machine-gun in front of a fire-plug.—Buffalo News.

IT CHASES COUGHS, COLDS, AND COLDS

An Old Family Doctor's Favorite Prescription
IT GETS RIGHT TO WORK THAT'S Ballard's Golden Oil
It penetrates, loosens, clears and heals like nothing else. No poisons—used copiously—safe for children. Sold everywhere in liberal bottles. Nothing just like it.

POULTRY WANTED

Remember by selling your Poultry to Massachusetts Live Poultry Co. you are selling direct to the Slaughter House. You can always get more for your Poultry. You all know what we have done here for the last two years. We never came here in the winter before. But conditions make us do it. There are many farms letting their poultry go this winter on account of the egg market being so low. We will be up here the first two days of the week. Rain or Shine. Leave your calls with MEDOMAK HOUSE, Waldoboro 39 and our Representative will call on you.

MASSACHUSETTS
LIVE POULTRY CO.
REVERE, MASS.

THOMASTON

General Knox Chapter, D.A.R., will meet Monday at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Kate Linnell. The change in place of meeting is made necessary because of the continued absence of Miss Hortense Wilson who is caring for her sister Miss Edith Wilson in Malden, Mass.

The Chateaufort club met with Mrs. Enoch Clark Thursday evening.

Elmus Morse, who bought of Walter McLain the small house which sets in the field in proximity to the boat yard of C. A. Morse & Son, moved it Thursday to Hathorne's Point in Cushing.

Earl Coates has received a telegram from the Sallors' Snug Harbor, Staten Island, informing him that his uncle Ellis Thompson is critically ill there. Mr. Thompson, whose home was in Thomaston several years, and who since he has been at the Harbor, has spent his summers here, is well known in town.

Mrs. James Felt who is passing through a period of illness, is improving somewhat.

Mrs. Minnie Ludwig who has been with her son in Rockland a few weeks is again with her daughter Mrs. William T. Smith.

Services Sunday at the Baptist Church: Bible School, 9:45; morning worship at 11, topic, "God Speaking Man Listening," at 7:15, evangelistic service, topic, "What Is Salvation?"

Frank A. Beverage is leaving today for Woodford to visit his daughter, Mrs. Orono Roney. Later he will visit his sons Charles Beverage of Braintree and Frank M. Beverage of Malden.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Strout entertained at supper Thursday Miss Olive Edwards of Rockland, Mrs. Earl A. Starrett, Miss Marian Starrett and Miss Dorothy L. Starrett.

Mrs. Charles Burton and daughter Luthers who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Newbert are to leave Monday, the former for her home in Billerica, Mass., and the latter for Orono to resume her studies at the University of Maine.

General Knox Chapter, D.A.R., will celebrate the birthday of George Washington, Feb. 23 with a banquet and card party, both of which will be open to the public.

Services at the Federated Church Sunday: Sunday School meets at 9:45 a. m.; morning service at 11 o'clock, subject, "The Psychology of Power." The evening service will be held at 7 o'clock, topic, "Restoration and Guidance."

Mrs. Wilbur Senter of Rockland has as dinner guests Thursday Miss Eleanor Seeger and Miss Alveda Hall of Thomaston and Mrs. John Freney of Rockland.

James Fales and friend Storey Billings of Berwick, students at the University of Maine, spent the weekend with Capt. and Mrs. James T. Fales, Elliot street.

Miss Barbara Elliot is at home from Oak Grove Seminary for the weekend.

Honors were divided at the basketball games Friday night, Thomaston vs. Lincoln Academy. The boys' team lost to Lincoln, 20-22, while the girls' team won 23-14.

PORT CLYDE

Mrs. Chester Fowles of Augusta and Mrs. Fred Burke and son Arthur of Malden, Mass., have been in town to attend the funeral of their father, Frank Hopkins.

Hatton Wilson of Tenant's Harbor spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seavey.

Mrs. Grace Lunsden of Rockland has been visiting relatives here.

The electric street lights were turned on Jan. 28. The young folks celebrated the event by a display of fireworks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hupper recently visited in Rockland.

Mrs. Ellison Hart is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Betsey Mart, in Saco.

Ashe Hupper has moved his family into the Orris Hupper house.

Frank L. Hopkins

The community has been saddened by the death of Frank L. Hopkins, 72, which occurred in Augusta after a short illness. Mr. Hopkins had been in poor health for the past two years, but able to be about and was on a visit with his daughter in Augusta when he was taken seriously ill and died in a few days. He was well known in the place and had always made his home here. He was a man respected and liked by both young and old and will be missed by everyone. He leaves a wife Eletha (Hart) Hopkins, four daughters, Mrs. Mary Fowles of Augusta, Mrs. Lettie Burke of Malden, Mass., Mrs. Evelyne Ellis of Portland, Me., Mrs. Lilla Anthony of this place, and a son Alton of Hallowell; and ten grandchildren. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at his late home, Rev. F. W. Barton of Tenant's Harbor officiating. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in the Ridge cemetery.

SWAN'S ISLAND

Marian Van Horn had a sudden attack of appendicitis last Thursday and was taken to Rockland by airplane which came here for that purpose. She was accompanied by her mother.

Mrs. Forest Stanley gave a party Tuesday afternoon which proved a very enjoyable affair. Those present were Mrs. William Freethy, Mrs. Edward Sprague, Mrs. Levi Moulden, Mrs. Lew Conary, Mrs. Charles Herrick, Mrs. Bert Wheaton, Mrs. Charles Burns, Mrs. Lillian Butman and Miss Phyllis Joyce. The afternoon was spent in card, honors going to Mrs. William Freethy, Mrs. Charles Herrick and Mrs. Charles Burns. Mrs. Stanley served a delicious supper.

Mrs. Sadie Cross entertained the ladies' Aid Thursday afternoon and served a very appetizing supper for the small sum of 15c. each person, the proceeds of which were turned over to the aid.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Swan's Island Tel. & C. Co. will be held at the office of F. F. Morse, Feb. 10, at 7:30.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

ROCKPORT

There was a good attendance at the observance of "church night" Thursday evening at the Baptist vestry. A fine supper was served by the men of the church and a business and social hour followed.

The Social Eight was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Mary Whitman at the Carleton homestead. Thomas J. Young of Vinalhaven has been spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. Theresa Whitmore.

Mrs. Delora Morrill entertained friends Wednesday evening at a radio party and a pleasant time was reported.

Steward Rhodes is confined to his home by illness.

The weekly meeting of the Tryto-help Club takes place Monday evening at the Baptist vestry, preceded by a supper at 6:30.

Mrs. Grace Drake of Camden has been guest of Mrs. Ella Eaton for a few days at the Thorndike homestead.

Further deals in connection with the Bok improvement plan have recently been consummated, that of the purchase by Mrs. Mary C. Bok of the Ham Robbins residence on Mechanic street, and the transfer to Mrs. Bok of the Irving Fields house which was recently bought by Rockland parties.

The Whitmore Boat Shop has just completed a pleasure craft for Herbert Simmons and is about to begin the construction of a boat for Mr. Thompson of Medford, Mass., with several other prospects in view which they expect to close in the near future.

At the Methodist vestry Wednesday evening the ladies' aid will hold a birthday party. A pleasing program is planned, refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow.

Fred Crozier returned Tuesday to his home in New York after spending a few days with his aunt, Mrs. Minnie Crozier.

Delmont Ballard, William Ingraham and Emil Erickson, students at U. of M., are spending the weekend in town with their parents.

All radios in town were tuned in on WLBB, Bangor, Wednesday night at 7:50 when the Camden-Rockport Lions Club broadcast an excellent program over that station. It came in fine. The solo by Earle Achorn of Rockport was especially enjoyed.

King Lion Hutchins paid a fitting tribute to the scenic beauties of both towns and the great improvements that have been and are being made through the generosity of Mrs. Edward W. Bok.

Mrs. Wilma Rhodes, popular teacher of the sub-primary and first grade is ill at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mayme Carroll, Glen Cove.

Doris Ballard is substituting during her absence.

Miss Dorothy Upham was the guest Wednesday of Mrs. C. E. King in Camden.

A meeting of the Public Library Association was held at the selectmen's office Friday evening. Plans were made for a membership drive in February. For the benefit of the library fund a card party will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leola Mann.

Church Notes

Methodist Church, Rev. F. F. Fowle, minister: Sunday morning, sermon at 10:30, with singing by adult choir; Sunday school, 11:45; Epworth League at 6, Flora Wellman leader; evening service at 7, at which Earle Achorn will sing a negro spiritual. "Ah, 'Tis Evening," will sing "Calling." Wednesday evening Ladies' Aid Birthday Party; Thursday evening prayer service at 7.

Baptist Church, Rev. George F. Currier, minister: Morning worship at 10:45, anthem by choir; children's story, "The Sure Foundation," sermon, "Our Days and Credo of the Christian Church," church school at 12; B. Y. P. U. at 6; at 7 o'clock there will be a union service at the West Rockport church; special music; subject "How We Got Our Denominations," midweek service of prayer and praise Thursday evening at 7.

VINALHAVEN

A committee that later will develop into an organization and to which a general invitation for membership will be given, is planning a costume party for Feb. 13 in town hall. Prizes for costumes unique, old time, a best representation, will be given. It will not be a masked ball but decidedly a costume affair in which all may participate. The committee requests that all who plan to attend begin at once to plan a costume, which may be found in the attic. Refreshments will be on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bonan of Lisbon Falls arrived Wednesday, called on the illness of his sister, but who is now somewhat improved.

The Needlecraft Club met Wednesday with Mrs. O. A. Ames.

Mrs. Emma Winslow will be hostess Saturday to the Washington Club.

The subject of the lesson sermon next Sunday at the forenoon service, 10:45, will be "The Christian Science Society, will be 'Love'."

Mrs. N. Cook Sholes will entertain at bridge Saturday evening.

Mrs. Forest Stanley gave a party Tuesday afternoon which proved a very enjoyable affair. Those present were Mrs. William Freethy, Mrs. Edward Sprague, Mrs. Levi Moulden, Mrs. Lew Conary, Mrs. Charles Herrick, Mrs. Bert Wheaton, Mrs. Charles Burns, Mrs. Lillian Butman and Miss Phyllis Joyce. The afternoon was spent in card, honors going to Mrs. William Freethy, Mrs. Charles Herrick and Mrs. Charles Burns. Mrs. Stanley served a delicious supper.

Mrs. Sadie Cross entertained the ladies' Aid Thursday afternoon and served a very appetizing supper for the small sum of 15c. each person, the proceeds of which were turned over to the aid.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Swan's Island Tel. & C. Co. will be held at the office of F. F. Morse, Feb. 10, at 7:30.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Those alien gangsters that Secretary of Labor Daugherty is to send back to their several native heaths probably will carry with them the greater part of Coolidge prosperity.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Australian Ballot Now

Universal in America

Australian ballot is the name given to a system of secret voting. The name arose from the fact that the essential features of the system were first introduced in 1858 in South Australia, one of the states of the Australian commonwealth, says an article in Pathfinder Magazine. A system of voting modeled after the Australian system was adopted in England in 1872. In the United States this method was first employed in local elections at Louisville, Ky., in 1888, and in the same year Massachusetts adopted secret voting for all state elections, beginning in 1880. The Australian ballot, in one form or another, finally was adopted by the United States and it still is employed except where it has been supplanted by voting machines, which retain the essential features of the Australian system.

According to the original Australian system, the names of all candidates appeared on the same ballot, which was concealed, placed at the polls under the direction of public officials and at public expense; in other words, the ballot itself was strictly official. The system had a threefold purpose—to prevent dishonesty in counting votes, to insure absolute secrecy and to protect the voter from outside influence while casting his vote. These were accomplished by giving each voter a separate ballot and compelling him to go alone into a booth where he indicated his choice by making a mark opposite the name of the candidate whom he preferred. The ballot then was folded and dropped into a ballot box.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

BEGGAR BY DAY, HE WAS SULTAN IN CAVE HAREM

Modern Jekyll and Hyde in Mexico Is Bared Through Jealousy of Woman.

Mexico City.—A crippled beggar on the streets by day and a sultan in his underground harem by night was the double role lived for years by an ingenious resident of Coyacan, until betrayed through a jealous woman.

Jose Ramirez, now called "Don Juan of the Wondrous Court," was a successful beggar. But the man was ambitious and not satisfied with the results of his own efforts. So, having changed the fair sex, he capitalized his attractions and enlisted in his service of begging six of his feminine admirers. These he sent into the streets for alms and at night they returned to share his caresses and to deliver their collections.

The court of the "beggars-sultan," who found himself enriched by the contributions of his helpers, was maintained in a degree of elegance not compatible with his means of livelihood in a cave near the town. Here he dropped his pose of a cripple and lived in comfort.

Friction arose in the harem because Ramirez failed to divide his attention equally and the slighted woman betrayed him to the police.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Officials visited the cave and ended Ramirez' game. The "cripple" fled from the police. His companions were held.

Probate Notices

STATE OF MAINE

To all persons interested in either of the estates hereinafter named: At a Probate Court held at Rockland, Me., on the 26th day of January, 1931, the following matters having been presented for first and final account hereinafter indicated it is hereby ordered:

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Rockland, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Gilford E. Butler of Rockland was appointed Ex. and qualified by filing bond on same date.

ESTATE OF WILLIAM H. DECROW, late of Thomaston, deceased, January 20th, 1931. Lulu H. Decrow, Thomaston was appointed Ex. without bond.

KATHERINE MATHER, late of Society

In addition to personal notes regarding departures and arrivals, this department especially desires information of social happenings, parties, musicals, etc. Notes sent by mail or telephone will be given priority.

TELEPHONE 770 or 794-W

Mrs. Fred T. Veazie entertained the Thursday Auction Club and four other guests at her home on Shaw avenue, with Mrs. Milton W. Weymouth of Sebago Lake as honor guest. Prizes were won by Mrs. Percy Damon, Mrs. L. E. Jones, Mrs. Walter Ladd and Mrs. Benjamin Philbrook, with a guest prize for Mrs. Weymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Palmer were in Portland yesterday for the day.

Miss Helen Perry has gone to New York.

Mrs. Edward Gonia was hostess to the Corner Club yesterday afternoon.

The postponed meeting of the Junior Harmony Club took place Wednesday evening at the B.W. rooms with 25 members present. The lesson in music appreciation conducted by Mrs. Faith G. Berry was on ear training, and with Mrs. Leola Noyes in charge the members presented interesting items pertaining to the life and compositions of Victor Herbert. The next meeting will be Wednesday evening, with pupils of Miss Mabel Holbrook, Miss Margaret Stahl, Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Emma Harvey and Mrs. Ruth T. George furnishing the program.

Mrs. R. H. Britt entertained at luncheon and one table of bridge Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. C. O. Perry carrying off the honors.

Miss Edith Stanley of Farmington is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Murray, Talbot avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Miles and Mrs. Lucia Burpee were in Portland Tuesday.

Mrs. T. E. McInnis, Crescent street, received word Thursday evening of the sudden death of her brother, Joseph Lynn, at his home in Chelsea, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. McInnis left yesterday for Boston.

Mrs. Carl A. Christofferson was hostess to the T. Club at sewing Thursday evening at her home on Chestnut street.

Mrs. Maude Mather, Purchase street, entertained the Jolly Six Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Findlay H. Calder and Mrs. Fred Simpson of Camden entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday afternoon, with eight tables. Rockland guests were Mrs. Fred L. Linekin, Mrs. C. E. Gilley, Mrs. George E. Dunton, Mrs. Fred T. Veazie, Mrs. Sumner Perry, Mrs. L. E. Jones and Mrs. Joseph Emery. Mrs. Linekin ranked third among the prize winners.

The Willing Workers' committee of the Universalist Church was entertained by Mrs. Henry H. Allen at the Copper Kettle Thursday afternoon, with the time devoted to making overdrapes for the vestry. Plans were made for a public bridge to be given in the near future. Mrs. Allen served tea.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Frank Gregory entertained at her home on North Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cables and Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Cables. The afternoon passed away pleasantly and cheerfully. During the evening Mrs. Cables was quite surprised to have a nicely decorated birthday cake placed before her. Later in the evening she was greatly surprised to see friends and relatives come trooping in, until there were 20 persons present to offer birthday greetings. Mrs. Cables was the recipient of a number of nice presents, including a shower of several pieces of a lovely shade of green glass. A nice lunch was served. The evening passed quickly with games and other diversions.

Miss Kathleen Nosworthy entertained the R. V. Club at her home on Fulton street Thursday evening, the meeting being in a form of a birthday party for Miss Gertrude Phillips, who was presented with a gift from the club and a large birthday cake. Miss Betty Duncan was guest of honor. The next meeting will have Miss Avis Blackington as hostess.

Mrs. Charles G. Hewett entertained at sewing Thursday evening at her home on Rankin street.

Mrs. Wilbur Senter Jr., entertained a few friends at supper and bridge Thursday evening at her home on Talbot avenue.

The Congregational ladies' group was entertained at the home of Mrs. C. E. Gilley Thursday evening, with 25 present. Activities for the winter and spring season were discussed. It has been decided to meet once each month for a business meeting, and to put on various entertainments during the next few months. One of the earliest will be a musical entertainment under the direction of Miss Marian Norton to take place in February, although no definite date has yet been named. Miss Norton's committee is composed of Mrs. Fred Olson, Mrs. L. B. Cook, Mrs. C. O. Perry, Mrs. Fred T. Veazie, Mrs. Seymour Cameron, Mrs. William Vinal, Mrs. Wallace Spear, Miss Dorothy Snow and Mrs. Harold Coombs. Miss Olive Pride entertained delightfully with a group of readings, and refreshments were served. The ladies are conducting a cake sale this afternoon at the Fuller-Cobb-Davis store at 2 o'clock.

Julia A. Barker, distinguished psychic, of Augusta will demonstrate spirit communication at G.A.R. hall next Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.—adv. 12-14

Mrs. John I. Snow, Mrs. A. J. Bird and Miss Ann Blackington entertained members of the Cardinal Club, husbands and guests Thursday evening for supper and cards at Mrs. Snow's home on Masonic street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Perry attended the auto show in Portland Wednesday.

Miss Olive Edwards was a guest at a supper party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Strout, Thomaston.

Mrs. Orrin Smith entertained the Tanco Club for supper and bridge Thursday evening at her home on Ocean avenue. Although the ladies carried off honors for the evening, the gentlemen proved to be the winners in the series which ended that night, and in the near future are to be "treated" to a dinner of the highest type by the losers.

The N&P Club was entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Ernest P. Jones, Camden street, with two tables of auction in play. Honors were won by Mrs. Lawrence Leach, Mrs. Sherwood Williams and Mrs. Lewis Coltart. Luncheon was served.

Mrs. Evie Perry was hostess for the bridge party given under the auspices of the B.W. Club Thursday evening at the rooms, with honors falling to Mrs. James F. Carver, Mrs. Fred Achorn, Dr. Mary Reuter and Miss Ellen Daly.

Mrs. John M. Pomeroy entertained at a bridge luncheon Thursday evening at her home on Talbot avenue, with two tables.

L. E. Dyer of Ash Point was called Tuesday to Bangor by the illness of his brother Eugene.

Mrs. Harry L. Waterman has returned home from Knox Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown of Ash Point are attending the Auto Show in Portland.

Mrs. H. I. Hix and Miss Carrie E. Brainerd are at Hotel Applegate, St. Petersburg, Florida, for the winter. They were joined Jan. 26 by Mrs. E. M. Faber and Miss Elizabeth Fischer of Peoria, Ill., who will spend three weeks in "The Sunshine City."

Mrs. Delilah Cunningham entertained at bridge Monday afternoon. Honors went to Miss Lillian McRae and Mrs. Florence Keating.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Club of the Central Maine Power Company Wednesday evening at the rooms was one of unusual interest. Miss Sue Carr of Augusta, general chairman of the organization, gave a delightful talk on her last summer's trip to California. In conjunction with this, moving pictures were shown of many features of the trip, with Ralph Kennison of Augusta operating the machine. One of the high lights of the meeting was the visit address given by Miss Helen York covering her trip to Europe last year with the Gold Star Mothers. Refreshments were served at the close of the program. Miss Hazel Wall was chairman of the committee in charge.

Mrs. Donald Perry and Mrs. Francis Lorraine entertained at dinner and bridge Wednesday evening at Mrs. Perry's home on Grove street, with eight guests. Honors were won by Mrs. J. F. Burgess, Mrs. Lorraine and Mrs. Ralph Brown.

Miss Hattie Armstrong who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. L. Morris, at The Highlands, returned to Boston yesterday.

The choir of St. Bernard's Church is giving the bridge at the Thorndike grill Wednesday evening, with Miss Celia Brault as chairman. Playing will begin at 8 o'clock.

Miss Edna Walker of Island Falls is visiting at E. W. Berry's for the remainder of the winter.

Everett L. Spear and Erwin M. Spear were in Boston recently where they attended the Quiet May Oil Burner convention and auto show.

The annual charity dance of Fuller-Cobb-Davis was held at Temple hall Wednesday night, with more than 200 couples in attendance, making it the largest and most successful of these affairs. Effective decorations in a color scheme of black and white were used. Kirk's Orchestra gave a half hour concert, augmented by readings by Master Harold Donnis, vocal solos by Mrs. R. C. Wentworth and solo dances by Miss Gretchen Fletcher. Kirk and his men passed out all the latest and snappiest dance tunes. Refreshments were served by Miss Harriet Rankin, chairman. Mrs. Fannie Brown, Mrs. Kenneth Legage, Miss Izelle Andrews, Miss Hazel Keller and Leon Smith. In charge of the check rooms were Carl Dyer, Everett Maker, Otto Deisler, Thomas Fleming and Floyd Montgomery. Prize dances were won by Miss Harriet Howard, Ray Eaton, Elmer Davis and Miss Doris Williams. Favors including noise makers, horns, rattles, tambourines, serpentine, paper caps, etc. were plentiful and added color zest to the occasion. Approximately $125 was netted, to be devoted to local charity. An expression of appreciation is made to all who aided in the success of the affair.

Owing to the stormy weather our "dollar sale" will be continued through the week beginning Feb. 2. E. B. Hastings & Co.—adv

We are showing our attractive new line of white gold mountings with diamonds on the sides, Leon J. White, jeweller, Main street, opposite Hotel Rockland.—adv

Margaret Newton, distinguished psychic, of Portland will demonstrate spirit communication at G.A.R. hall next Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.—adv. 14

Fifty members of Winslow-Holbrook Post and Auxiliary met Thursday evening at Legion hall and listened to Miss Helen York give an eloquent story of her trip to Europe last summer. Miss York told about the Passion Play which she witnessed at Oberammergau. The entire trip was presented to her hearers as a series of pictures, so brilliantly did Miss York tell of the events of her trip. A social hour was enjoyed with refreshments served by the ladies of the auxiliary.

Lloyd Clark, Jr., is home from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the mid-year recess.

The Congregational ladies will serve supper Wednesday night at 6 with this committee in charge: Mrs. Edwin Edwards, chairman, Mrs. Ensign Otis, Mrs. Leo Howard, Mrs. B. B. Smith, Mrs. H. L. Karl, Mrs. George W. Foster, Miss Flora Fish, Mrs. Henry B. Bird, Miss Annie Frye, Mrs. Milton Griffin and Mrs. G. M. Derry.

Atwood Levensaler, home from the University of Maine for the mid-year recess, has as his guest Leif Sorenson of Rumbold, fraternity brother.

Miss Madeline Devone of Houlton who has been stopping with her aunt, Mrs. A. E. Morton for three months left yesterday for Staten Island, N. Y., with her brother who is deputy sheriff at Richmond Prison.

C. R. Sprague of Portland was a guest at A. E. Morton's Friday night left this morning as engineer of the freight train to Brunswick.

Clifford Ladd is home from University of Maine for the weekend.

Mrs. Donald Perry, Mrs. Francis Lorraine and Mrs. Frances Rydman have been vacationing from the Senter Crane store this week.

Circle supper at the Universalist Church Wednesday night at 6 o'clock will be in charge of the men, with J. Fred Knight as chairman. Mrs. Grace Rollins president of the Woman's Society, has called a meeting of the ladies directly after supper.

Mrs. Donald Karl entertained at afternoon tea Monday as a birthday surprise for Mrs. Fred A. Carter, with ten guests present. Mrs. Carter was presented with a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

A bridge party is to be given by the activities committee of the auxiliary of Winslow-Holbrook Post, A. L. Monday evening at Legion hall, at 8. Mrs. Myra Watts is chairman.

Mrs. Grace Veazie will be hostess to Lady Knox Chapter, D.A.R., Monday afternoon at 2:30 at her home, 12 Shaw avenue, with Mrs. Mary Ladd and Miss Edith Bicknell as assisting hostess. The program leader will be Mrs. Clara Thurston.

Chapin Class will have supper Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. E. F. Berry, Grove street at 6 o'clock.

Misses Florence Dean and Dorothy Harvey have been presenting their entertaining act "The Midnight Fantasy" at the Camden food fair this week, meeting with marked success.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge meets Tuesday night with supper at 6:15. Charter members' night will be observed.

Mrs. Roy Estes is chairman of the supper the Episcopal ladies are serving tonight at the parish rooms of St. Peter's Church from 5 to 7—the hours chosen for the convenience of shoppers and clerks.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler declared that Professor Einstein is monarch of the realm of pure thought thus excluding him from journalism—over some of the shows in Gotham.—Boston Herald.

Bookshelves Supplant the Bookcase

By GLADYS LILLY

SIMPLICITY is the keynote of modern living. The comfortable living-room long ago displaced the stuffy formal parlor with its trailing lace curtains, heavy dark hangings, gold embossed wallpaper, and multiplicity of ornaments and bric-a-brac. In its place fashion has enthroned a large light room, so arranged that the family and guests may sink comfortably into the depths of an upholstered lounge or chair for an evening's relaxation and pleasure.

Among the many pieces of elaborate equipment which have been discarded for those of newer and simpler design is the cumbersome "bookcase," which used to occupy so much space under the gas jet in the parlor. Books are now temptingly displayed in open built-in shelves where a volume can be reached without unhooking a glass door. Built-in bookshelves are frequently placed flanking the fireplace, and they may be "furred" into the wall, or may be attached to it. In rooms of dignified Georgian Colonial design, built-in book cabi-

THE REALM OF MUSIC

Gladys St. Clair Morgan

Carol Deis, the young soprano of Dayton, Ohio, winner of the fourth national radio audition conducted by Atwater Kent Foundation was heard with much interest and pleasure last Sunday evening when she appeared as guest artist in the Atwater Kent Hour. Her opening number was the "Bell Song" from Lakmé, which was her selection in the audition finals and she sang several other songs of a diversified nature, proving that this young singer is by no means confined to one style of vocalism.

Miss Deis has been singing since a young girl in choirs and choruses and amateur operatic productions. Opportunity came to her in the Dayton local competition of the fourth national radio audition. She won first place without question. Again in the competition in southern Ohio her voice claimed first attention, and she was sent to Chicago to represent her section in the geographical district audition, where she again won first place. As a national finalist she journeyed to New York, and Dec. 14 was adjudged the best young woman singer in the United States and awarded two years' intensified musical training and $5000 in cash. Already she has entered the Curtis Institute of Music at Philadelphia where she is a pupil of Emilio de Gogorza.

Many interested comments have come to me since the previous mention of Miss Helene Mosher's concert in Bangor Jan. 22, and through a Thomaston friend we have her program. Her numbers were:

On Wings of Song Mendelssohn
Entr'acte Franck
Habener (Carmen) Bizet
Das Wirtshaus Schubert
Freude Der Kinder Schubert
Frühlingstraume Schubert
Aufenthal Schubert
Adeu forest (Jean D'Arc) Tschakovsky
By a Lonely Forest Pathway Griffes
Carnival Kelsou
Christ Went Up Into the Hills, Haseman
Love Went A-Riding Bridge

For encores she gave "The Pool of Quietness," "Statue," "The Bee" and a group of two—"Without a Song" and "Morning" sung as she announced, to two persons in California, her father and mother.

The Bangor Daily News said that "Miss Mosher demonstrated that the predictions made some years ago when she was a local (Bangor) singer have been borne out by her subsequent success. Her mezzo-soprano voice has a lure and appeal, and her talented handling of it shows what hard work can do upon a basis of natural ability." The concert was under the auspices of the Otisoka Class of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Bangor of which the singer was an active member when she lived in that city.

Dame Nellie Melba, famous opera singer, is reported as seriously ill. The noted diva, now 71 years old, was so ill when she arrived at Australia Nov. 4 that the doctors forbade her to land. On the arrival of the ship at Melbourne, Nov. 10, she was removed to a hospital. At that time, however, it was stated that her condition had improved and that her speedy recovery might be expected.

The sixth concert of its current series at Jordan Hall (Boston) was given Sunday by the People's Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Thompson Stone. Of particular interest is the announcement that Marion Kingsbury, Boston soprano, assisted the orchestra and gave pleasure by her performance of an air from Mozart's last, but no means greatest opera—La Clemenza di Tito? Mrs. Kingsbury is an intimate friend of Mrs. A. R. Marsh of this city, and Mrs. Marsh's daughter, Mrs. George Clark of Lisbon Falls, is her namesake.

James O'Hara is meeting with marked success in his capacity as organist at the New Oriental Theatre in Boston (in the Mattapan district). He has just completed an over song side set, and it is being shown in the Public Theatres. At the Oriental a lobby display is being arranged for him, and he is being billed as "The Mandarin of Melody," in keeping with the theatre, the Oriental. He holds one of the finest theatre organ positions in Boston, has a wonderful instrument, and we know he plays it beautifully.

Some of the leading figures in American musical education have accepted an invitation to speak in the series of musicians' relief subscription concerts each Sunday from WEEL from 1 to 2 p. m. The talks will be aimed at arousing public interest in bringing back the musicians from retirement enforced by mechanical reproduction, the general public's taste now having been extended beyond former limits by means of radio. The speakers will include Wallace Goodrich director of the New England Conservatory of Music, Walter R. Spalding, head of the music school at Harvard; Leo R. Lewis, professor of music at Tufts; Archibald T. Davison, professor of musical life in America will be dealt with by Joe Mitchell Chappell, editor of the National Magazine and Isaac Goldberg, author of "Tin Pan Alley." Mr. Dodge will also include at least one fine example of American composition in the music of each program.

Rosa Ponselle has passed the "supreme test" on the same stage where she jumped from vaudeville to grand opera 12 years ago. She has added the role of Violetta in "La Traviata" to her repertoire at the Metropolitan Opera. This Verdi work has always been considered by critics as the acid test for coloratura sopranos. It was in 1918 that Ponselle then singing in vaudeville with her sister, Carmela, attracted the attention of opera producers. They brought her to the Metropolitan to sing opposite Caruso in "La Forza del Destino." After that debut she was a star. Her versatility was considered sensational, and several works were produced for her, including "Giocanda," "L'Africana," "La Vestale," "Don Giovanni" and "Norma." She sang the difficult part in "Norma," in 1927, the first time it had been produced in New York in 36 years. One critic has said she is the only one who is carrying on the traditions of the bel canto school of singing when a soprano could sing any role written for a soprano, be it lyric, dramatic or coloratura.

Ponselle, of Italian lineage, was born in Meriden, Conn., and her earliest years were passed under very humble circumstances. Her remarkable talent was recognized by her family who contrived in every possible manner to prepare her for vocal lessons. Today she is unquestionably the greatest operatic soprano before the public.

Frau Winifred Wagner, widow of Sigfried Wagner, is carrying on the Bayreuth traditions, in accordance with her late husband's wishes. This year's program already has been fixed. The festival will run from July 21 to Aug. 19. "Tannhauser" will have five performances; "Parsifal" five; "Tristan" three and the "Ring" four.

"A New Jersey doctor says there are fewer girl sopranos since women started smoking. That's the greatest argument we've heard in favor of women smoking."—Southern Luberman.

Guest: "Only once in history has the personality of a great singer inspired a great chef in the naming of a masterpiece—when we got the Peeche Melba."

Flapper: "Oh, but I'm sure you're wrong there. What about the oyster Patti?"—Cleveland News.

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, educational director of the Community Concert Association of New York, has recently been in Bangor arranging a drive to obtain 750 to 1000 members for the newly-formed Bangor Community Concert Association. The plan presented by Dr. Spaeth is practical, co-operative and economical, and makes possible a minimum of three major concerts during the year. Portland, Augusta and Lewiston are other Maine cities having community concert associations. The list of artists available through the master association is a formidable one—such as Florence Austral, Amelita Galli-Curci, Maria Jeriza, Rosa Ponselle, Marie Sundelius, Sophie Braslau, Sigrid Onegin, Mario Chamlee, Martinielli, Tito Schipa, Lawrence Tibbett, Paul Robeson, Mischa Elman, Jascha Heifetz, Toscha Seidel, Harold Bauer, Ossip Gabrilowitsch, Mildred Dilling (harpist), John Amadio (flutist), the London String Quartet, New York String Quartet, La Argentina (dancer) and many others whose names are familiar to us through their renown.

Dr. Spaeth captivates everyone wherever he goes. From ten minutes of humorous entertainment to more than an hour of fascinating instruction at the piano he is invariably a success. He keeps all happy with a wonderful combination of music, laughter and human understanding. He holds an unique position among the musicians and lecturers of the country, for he is the one man whose effectiveness with any gathering may be guaranteed in advance, no matter what the nature of the occasion may be. He has written several books, the most noteworthy being: "The Common Sense of Music," "The Songs You Forgot to Remember," "America's New Folk Music," "Words and Music" and "Musical

MONDAY-TUESDAY

After An Impetuous, Heedless Wedding . . . !!!

Does Love Prove To Be A Tragic Fake?

CLARA BOW plays a heroine thrown into the world on her own resources! Battling successfully for life against all odds!

But When Love and Luxury Are Suddenly Given Her, Like a Miracle, By a Man She Loves Wildly At First Sight, Can She Win?

Paramount Presents The Glorious Redhead Revealing Emotional Depths of Poignant Power!

Clara Bow

with

Stuart Erwin - Harry Green

Norman Foster

(Hero of "Young Man of Manhattan")

in

"No Limit"

A Paramount Comedy Drama

NOW PLAYING

"AFRICA SPEAKS"

One of the Public Theatres

Home of Paramount Pictures

Specialties." He is especially noted in Who's Who in America. He has appeared before hundreds of clubs of all sorts all over the country, and before innumerable schools and colleges.

In connection with the Boston appearance of the Chicago Olive Opera Co., it is interesting to note that among the recent musical books is one pertaining to that organization—"Forty Years of Opera in Chicago," told in an entertaining manner by Edward Moore, music critic of the Chicago Tribune. It is a volume of 430 pages, well illustrated and handsomely bound by Horace Liveright, New York. It is a valuable contribution to the history of music in this country, containing a wealth of anecdotes, a store of statistical information, casts, etc.

SOUTH THOMASTON

The men of the village who have been working at Clark Island have all been laid off. This has been a very long season for that kind of stone business.

Maynard Jackson was so fortunate Tuesday as to shoot a very beautiful fox. The animal seemed to be a cross between black and grey fox and had black ears, face and feet, its body being a tawny gray. Mr. Jackson received an attractive price for the pelt.

Mrs. Lulu Allen of Moira, N. Y., arrived here Friday, called by the critical illness of her foster mother, Mrs. Jean Ingram, whose death occurred Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Susie Smith received the third and fourth degrees in Wessaweskeag Grange Wednesday night, with the accompanying harvest feast. There was good attendance and the fine combination Victrola and radio demonstrated by Arnold Allen was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. F. J. Baum and others gave a delightful card party Tuesday night in the Grange hall for the benefit of the street lights. Refreshments were served and a sale of home-made candy was held. Two delicious and beautiful cakes were donated by those famous cooks, Mrs. Clifford Dennison and Mrs. Lotta Crowley, and were sold on shares, Miriam Wiggins and S. O. Hurd being the winners. Mr. Hurd in turn generously auctioned off his prize and donated the money to the proceeds of the affair, which altogether netted about $23.

Mrs. Ivan Rackliff owns a Bible printed in 1827 (104 years old) which contains the Old and New Testaments and the Apocrypha. In it are records of the Robinson family dating back to 1792. Other interesting old books also owned by Mrs. Rackliff are: A Report of Secretary of War on "Indian Affairs," printed in 1822; a Grammar of Geography, giving the census of 1810 and a history from 1607 to 1822. Mrs. George Stanton and Frank Wade also both own Bibles printed over 100 years ago. No doubt there are many more valuable old books in town which the correspondent would be glad to hear about.

Monday night the annual installation of officers of Knox Lodge of Masons was held. The ceremony was private but much enjoyed by the members who attended. A light lunch and ice cream were served. Ralph Clark and LeRoy Chatto of Rockland impressively installed these officers: W. M., Charles Watts; S. W., John Ingram; J. W., Harvey Crowley; treasurer, S. O. Hurd; secretary, Cleveland Sleeper, Jr.; S. D., H. A. Harlow; J. D., A. F. Sleeper; chaplain, Milton Baskick; marshal, S. A. Rackliff; senior steward, Leroy Wiggins; junior steward, Fred Allen; tiler, James Williams.

MARTINSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Teel, Mr. and Mrs. LaForest Teel, daughter Nellie and son Donald, and Miss Beatrice Nickerson, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Farrington Hart.

Use A Foundation Cream For Your Daytime Make-Up

FOUNDATION cream was introduced in Paris only a few years ago. At first, many women with poor complexions used heavy foundation cream in an effort to cover blemishes, or as a "short cut"—thinking if they put on a thick coating of cream, and then applied powder and rouge, they wouldn't need to put on more make-up all day. The results often were very artificial looking.

We have learned much about foundation creams since that time, however, and now know that a good foundation cream should not be heavy, but light and fluffy—almost the consistency of whipped cream—in order to do its job well. And of course there is no need to hide a neglected skin under a heavy coating of powder and cream, when it is so easy to keep your skin in good condition by cleansing it daily with good cleansing cream, and then gently tightening your pores with either a mild astringent or a skin fresher.

After cleansing your face, the next step in making up for daytime is to apply a good foundation cream. You will find that very little is required to give your skin a perfectly smooth finish. Perhaps it will seem difficult at first to get a very small amount of cream on evenly, but this really is easy when you know how:

First spread a generous dab of foundation cream all over your face and neck, and then gently wipe away the surplus with cleansing tissues. This will leave a tiny film of foundation cream on your face. When there is a tendency to enlarged pores this invisible film will keep the powder from caking and getting into your pores. In this way, too, there is no chance that a spot without foundation cream will be left on your skin, only to show up later under the powder.

If you prefer dry rouge, apply that next, and then powder lightly over it, but if you use a cream rouge, always smooth it over the foundation cream before powdering your face at all. The same rule applies to both kinds of rouge; always blend the edges of your rouge with powder, and never allow yourself to be seen in public until you have carefully powdered over the rouge. When you have used a soft, light foundation cream on your face, first, rouge can be applied so skillfully after a little practice, that it will look very natural, and scarcely can be detected.

MONDAY-TUESDAY

Beautiful Romance of the West!

Cattle, Outlaws and one woman combine efforts to tame one man.

From the novel "Untamed"

"Fair Warning"

WITH

GEORGE O'BRIEN

—ADDED—

Paramount Sound News Comedy

NOW SHOWING "NIGHT WORK" with EDDIE QULLAN

HOME OF PARAMOUNT PICTURES

SHOWS 2:00, 6:30, 8:30 Sat. Continuous 2:00 to 10:30

STRAND

Telephone 892

A Paramount Public Theatre

